SAULT STE MARIE*, 10000; Chippewa, 22075; 365m NW of Detroit, terminus Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic, Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste Marie and Sudbury br. C. P. Rys.; on St. Mary's river, opposite St. Mary's rapids, which are spanned by an immense international railway bridge. Around the rapids, which are not navigable except for Indian canoes, the United States government has built at a cost of about ten million dollars, a canal and locks for the benefit of marine traffic. From 17000 to 18000 vessels pass through the canal each year, carrying freight which in quantity and value far surpass that passing through the Suez canal; has a dozen passenger and freight steamer lines to leading Great Lake Ports. Cheap power for manufacturing and other purposes is provided by St. Mary's rapids, which have a fall of 18 feet and which, with Lake Superior for a mill pond, furnish a water power second only to Niagara Falls. The rapids have already been harnessed by the Edison-Sault Electric Co., which now has 10000 horse power and is making a further development that will increase this to 35000. The American Lake Superior Power Co. has commenced work on a canal which will furnish 40000 horse power for manufacturing purposes at very cheap rates. This canal is to be finished by Jan. 1, 1900. The principal industries are: The Union Carbide Works, manufacturers of calcium carbide; saw mills of the Soo Mill Lumber Co. and of C. E. Ainsworth, roller flour mill of John Armstrong, machine shop and foundry of Hickler Bros., machine shop of James Strachan, ship yards of Dunbar & Sullivan and of James Pullar, planing mills of J. B. & R. C. Sweatt and of the Tymon Lumber Co., commercial fishing of Ainsworth & Ganley, woolen mill of Griffith & Cullis, cigar factories of J. W. McTavish, of A. H. Hasebrook and of D. E. Clarke, tannery of K. Sugar, cabinet works, tailor shops, laundries and other factories, employing about 700 hands, with a yearly wage roll of about $400,000. This city is a local trade centre for a large and prosperous agricultural, lumbering and commercial fishing territory and a wholesale distributing point for the eastern portion of the Upper Peninsula. The city has a four-company military post which is one of the best in the United States, a massive government administration building on the canal grounds, a beautiful government park and United States marine hospital. MINNESOTA.

Capital, St. Paul. Settled at Fort Snelling by Americans in 1819. Population, 1,301,826. Area, 83365 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 13,403,019; value of farm land, $193,724,260; annual value of farm products, $49,468,951. No state debt. Vote in 1896: Rep. 193,501; Dem. 139,626; Pro. 4365; G. Dem. 3230; Social Labor, 915.

Minnesota is bounded on the north by Canada; on the east by Lake Superior and Wisconsin; on the south by Iowa and on the west by the Dakotas. This state is a vast undulating plain from 800 to 1000 feet high and gradually rising to about 1500 feet on the Height of Land, the watershed that separates the northern slope from the southern and eastern. The northern slope comprises the great plains and forests of the Red River and Rainy Lake country; the southern slope includes the prairies and woods of the Mississippi valley and the eastern slope, covering the Lake Superior region, rich in minerals and clad with forests. The Mississippi river rises in Elk Lake in the north. This mighty stream and the Red and Minnesota, with their branches keep the state abundantly watered and furnish 1500 miles of river navigation. The beautful Minnehaha Falls near Fort Snelling are famed in song and story and the state abounds in rapids, cascades and coves and has 10000 crystal lakes. Many of the latter are plentifully stocked with fish and situated in regions abounding in wild game, are favorite haunts of sportsmen. The largest of the lakes are Rainy lake and Lake of the Woods, on the northern border and perhaps the most beautiful is Lake Minnetonka, a favorite summer resort, near Minneapolis. Though not the largest producer of wheat, Minnesota is probably the best known in this connection and the Red River valley produces the best quality of wheat in the world. The state raises annually 45,000,000 bushels of wheat, 48,000,000 bushels of oats, 22,000,000 bushels of corn and 9,000,000 bushels of barley and large crops of flaxseed, buckwheat, rye and potatoes. The growing of apples, grapes, strawberries and other fruits is also an important pursuit. There are nearly 2,000,000 head of live stock in the state and the annual production of butter amounts to 15,000,000 pounds and of cheese to 1,500,000 pounds. There are great forests on the upper Mississippi, St. Croix and Red rivers and the state has produced 472,000,000 feet of lumber and 180,000,000 shingles in one year. Care is taken to keep up the timber supply by tree planting and over 30,000,000 have already been set out in the open country. Minnesota produces nearly 1,000,000 tons of excellent iron a year and there are goodly stores of pink and cream limestone, glass and clay. Large quarries of brown stone are near Fond du Lac. Cement is made at Mankato and a fine grade of granite of several colors, is quarried at St. Cloud. At Pipestone City is the "Red Pipestone quarry" familiar to readers of Hiawatha. The population of this state embraces two distinct classes, the Americans of New England ancestry and the thousands of Swedes, Norwegians, Finns and other Scandinavians. The manufactures include flour, packed meats, lumber and others of minor importance. Minneapolis is the largest flouring city and has the largest flouring company and the largest mill in the world. The Peavy system of elevators, with plants at different points throughout the state, has a capacity of 10,000,000 bushels. There are 82 counties and newspapers are published in 80 of them. The principal cities are: Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth, Winona, Stillwater, Mankato, St. Cloud, Faribault, Red Wing and Rochester.

In making up lists for use in the State of Minnesota, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

St. Paul's educational facilities embrace, besides a fine public system, Hamline (Methodist Episc.) University, Macolester (Presbyterian) College, Concordia (German-Lutheran) College, State Agricultural College and St. Thomas and St. Paul Seminaries and Convent of the Good Shepherd (R. Catholic). Fort Snelling, one of the oldest and best kept military posts in America, is 7m N of the city. The Minnesota Soldiers' Home occupies 51 acres on the river, a quarter of a mile below Minnehaha Falls and is one of the most beautifully situated Homes in the country. The State Fair grounds of 200 acres, with fine buildings and equipments, are located here. Religious worship is observed in 160 churches. There are 479 insurance companies in the state, all the most important of which have offices here. St. Paul is one of the most beautiful cities in America, with many handsome buildings, of which the New State Capitol, City Hall and New York Life Building are the most striking; also splendid park system. The latter comprises 45 different tracts, 475 acres, excluding Summit Avenue and Boulevard, 75 acres, and the Phelon Park and Boulevard system, 585 acres, is shortly to be acquired. Como Park, 396 acres, is the largest and most beautiful of all. Val. $96,290,420. Express; Telegraph. First Nat. Bank. Hotel Ryan.

Publisher's Statement.—The News is the strong local paper of Winona, reaching every post-office within a radius of 30 miles. The average sworn circulation for the year 1898 was 4981 copies each issue. The feature that has won for the News so large a circulation is the efforts made to print the local news from every locality in the territory covered. It covers the field of 10 local papers; advertising rates low but firm. News Printing Co., Winona, Minn.

MISSISSIPPI.

Capital, Jackson. Settled at Fort Rosalie by Frenchmen in 1716. Population, 1,289,600. Area, 46810 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 15,883,251; value of farm land, $92,844,915; annual value of farm products, $63,701,844. State debt, $3,246,183.57. Vote in 1896: Dem. 56363; Pop. 7517; Rep. 5130; G. Dem. 1071; Pro. 485.

Mississippi is bounded on the north by Tennessee; on the east by Alabama; on the south by the Gulf of Mexico and Louisiana and on the west by the Mississippi river, which separates it from Arkansas and Louisiana. The surface of the state is low, moist and very fertile in the west along the Mississippi river and gradually rises toward the east. Over 80 per cent of the people are engaged in farming, which is the great industry of the Mississippi valley. The leading products are cotton and corn; in the former, the state is surpassed only by Texas. Mississippi annually raises 1,265,000 bales of cotton, 25,000,000 bushels of corn, 3,000,000 bushels of oats, 52,000,000 bushels of rice, 5,000,000 bushels of sweet potatoes, 1200 carloads of small fruits and melons and 60000 tons of hay. The state has 104,000 mules, 99000 horses and 1,636,000 hogs and produces vast quantities of wool, dairy products, sorghum and tobacco every year. Three-fifths of the area of Mississippi is covered with forests of oak, red cedar, black walnut, poplar, cottonwood and other trees. In the southern half of the state there are forests of long leafed yellow pine, worth $250,000,000. Tishomingo county produces the finest quality of pipe and potters' clay. The navigable rivers of the state are as follows: The Yazoo, formed by the Yalobusha and Tallahatchie, navigable throughout, has ten steamers, with an annual commerce of $3,500,000; the Tallahatchie bears nine steamers with an annual commerce of $1,500,000; Tchula lake bears four steamers that transport 14000 bales of cotton a year; Pearl river has 11 steamers, with an annual commerce of $1,600,000. Biloxi and Ocean springs are popular summer, health and pleasure resorts in the south. The former is famous for its oysters and oranges. Mississippi has 75 counties and newspapers are published in 74. The leading cities are: Vicksburg, Brookhaven, Meridian, Natchez, Greenville, Columbus, Aberdeen, Grenada, Yazoo City and Bay St. Louis.

A VALUABLE SUGGESTION. "It has the recommendation of being short." Short cuts are good when we are familiar with them, but otherwise dangerous. The short cut to success in business is to advertise; but the inexperienced often find it leads to failure. As with any other business, advertising takes years of patient study to master. It is therefore impossible for the busy merchant to give the matter the necessary time and attention. It is the most natural thing in the world for one who has not the special experience to judge lightly of its requirements, but if he were to recall the labor and time it has taken to become proficient in his own line he would comprehend at a glance the importance of engaging experienced assistance in so important a department. For nearly fifty years we have been showing thousands of business men the recognized "short cut" to success by giving them the benefit of our experience in advertising. We have also been able, owing to our long connection with publishers, to offer exceptional terms. We are always on the alert—constantly infusing new blood into our business—and our ripened experience tells us instantly what to use, how to use it, and what to pay for it. There are many signs of improvement in finance and commerce, and now is the time to begin, or to extend advertising. Competition in business will be keener than ever, and the need of experience proportionately increased. We shall be pleased to have you consult us.

MISSOURI.

Capital, Jefferson City. Settled at St. Genevieve by Frenchmen in 1755. Population, 2,677,080. Area, 69415 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 28,177,990; value of farm land, $375,633,307; annual value of farm products, $95,912,660. State debt, $8,439,479.20. Vote in 1896: Dem. 363,667; Rep. 304,940; G. Dem. 2355; Pro. 2196; Social Labor, 595; Nat. 293.

Missouri is bounded on the north by Iowa; on the east by the Mississippi river, which separates it from Illinois and Kentucky; on the south by Arkansas and on the west by the Missouri, which separates it from Nebraska and Kansas and by Kansas and Indian Territory. The surface of the state is uneven, rising from 300 feet in the lowlands of the southeast to 3000 feet in the mountains of the southwest. The eastern part of the state is drained by the Mississippi and its tributaries, the Cuivre, Salt, Fabius and others; the central and northwestern part by the Missouri and its tributaries, Chariton, Grand, Platte and others; and the southern part by the Gasconade, Meramec, St. Francis and Osage, tributaries of the Missouri and the Black river, a tributary of the Mississippi and its tributary, the White river. Of these the Mississippi and Missouri bear a tremendous volume of commerce on their waters, while the Osage, navigable to Tuscumbia has a commerce in lumber, aggregating $1,000,000 annually and the Gasconade is navigable and has several steamers on its waters. In the south are Sweet, Perth Windsor, El Dorado, Excelsior, Chouteau, Monagaw, Cheltenham and Elk Springs, famous for the medicinal properties of their waters. The forests of Missouri furnish large quantities of hardwood lumber and the sawmills of Canton and Hannibal saw millions of feet of logs from Wisconsin and Minnesota every year. Missouri is primarily an agricultural state and the staples are grain, tobacco, fruit and live stock. It ranks next to Illinois in the production of corn, producing 203,210,000 bushels annually. Over 25,000,000 bushels of wheat and 27,000,000 bushels of oats are raised every year. Missouri ranks seventh in the production of tobacco, raising 10,000,000 pounds annually. The state has 10000 acres devoted to vines and many small fruits are grown. Missouri ranks next to Iowa and Illinois in the raising of swine, nearly 5,000,000 a year and leads in the raising of mules; $16,000,000 worth of these animals, $50,000,000 worth of cattle and $55,000,000 worth of horses are raised every year. Missouri abounds in minerals, vast quantities of iron are produced; 3,000,000 tons of coal are dug annually; 60,000,000 pounds of lead a year are produced, the state ranking second only to Colorado; in the production of zinc, the state takes first rank; copper and petroleum and koalin and other clays abound. St. Louis leads the cities of America in the fur trade, with a business of $2,000,000 a year. The state's manufactures of farming tools, flour, beer and dressed meats, centre around St. Louis, which has the largest cracker bakery, tobacco and drug companies in the world. A St. Louis concern whose beers are world famous, turn out 1,000,000 barrels annually. The state has nearly 1000 flour mills that make 2,000,000 barrels a year. Missouri has 114 counties and newspapers are published in all of them. The leading cities are: St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Joseph, Springfield, Sedalia, Hannibal, Joplin, Moberly, Jefferson City and Carthage.

In making up lists for use in the State of Missouri, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

Publisher's Statement.—Fulton Gazette, published at Fulton, Callaway county, Missouri, every Friday morning; was established June 1, 1877, and is now the leading weekly publication in the county and the best advertising medium. It is the favorite paper of the farmers and stock raisers and makes a specialty of collecting news on these lines. The readers of the Gazette rank among the leading mule, horse and cattle raisers and dealers in the west, and they are the men who have given Callaway county its celebrated reputation for producing the best horses, mules and cattle in this country without having any competition in the production of butter, eggs, chickens, turkeys and geese.

Publisher's Statement.—The Farmers' Advocate, Hamilton, Mo., has 2250 actual paid in advance subscribers. No other paper in Caldwell county has over 800. The reason of this is because the Advocate contains more local news each week than any three papers in the county combined. It is the favorite family newspaper throughout Caldwell county, consequently it is the advertisers' favorite. It carries more local advertising than any three papers in the county combined. It is a model country newspaper. If you contemplate placing any advertising in Missouri, let the Advocate head the list of weeklies. Write for a sample copy and advertising rates.

Publisher's Statement.—The Westliche Post, the leading German daily newspaper of the Mississippi Valley, has established a preeminence for itself which is attested by its large circulation among all classes of Germans. It is a strong factor politically and unexcelled in its news service. The weekly edition is particularly valuable to the agricultural classes and the paper is a strictly modern one in all respects.

MONTANA.

Capital, Helena. Settled at Fort Union by fur traders in 1829. Population, 131,769. Area, 146,080 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 405,683; value of farm lands, $3,234,504; annual value of farm products, $2,024,-923. No state debt. Vote in 1896: Dem. 42537; Rep. 10494; Pro. 186.

Montana is bounded on the north by the Dominion of Canada; on the east by North and South Dakota; on the south by Wyoming and Idaho and on the west by Idaho. The eastern part of the state is a high plateau rising from an elevation of 2000 feet in the east to 4000 in the west and the western part comprises the continental divide, the Bitter Root mountains on the western border and the enclosed basin. Montana is larger than the British Isles and contains 30,000,000 acres of farm lands, 38,000,000 acres of grazing lands and 26,-000,000 acres of woods and mountains. The eastern plateau is fertile excepting for the Bad Lands of the lower Yellowstone. The greatest rivers in America take their rise here. Clarke's Fork of the Columbia flows around Bitter Root Mountains to the westward; the Jefferson, Madison and Gallatin unite to form the mighty Missouri, which flows to the eastward across Montana for 1300 miles and is navigable from Three Forks to Gulf of Mexico, and its great tributary, the Yellowstone, which rises in Yellowstone park and stretches across south-eastern Montana for 850 miles. The Atlantic canon, Great, Black Eagle, Rainbow and Horseshoe Falls and other natural beauties make this one of the grandest scenic regions in the world. Great forests of black ash and pine furnish material for many sawmills. Wheat, oats, corn and small quantities of vegetables and fruits are raised and sold in the mining camps. "The state contains 1,500,000 head of cattle, 200,000 horses and 1,300,000 sheep. The latter produces yearly 10,000,000 pounds of wool and $2,000,000 worth of mutton." "Mining is the foremost industry of Montana, which has already added $400,000,000 to the nation's wealth from this resource. Nearly one-third of the gold, silver, copper and lead mined in the United States comes from Montana, which surpasses in its product Colorado, California and Nevada alike. During 10 years $135,000,000 in gold were taken out; but little was done in mining until after 1860, when Hauser, Bozeman, the Stuarts and others developed the lodes of southwestern Montana. Bancock began to produce in 1762. The Alder-Gulch (Virginia City) district was opened in 1863, and has yielded $50,000,000. Last-Chance Gulch (Helena), opened in 1864, has produced $15,000,000. Quartz mining was begun after 1870, and now vast and costly plants, with the most efficient machinery, are perpetually at work. The smelters at Helena, Great Falls and Castle alone cost $10,000,000. The Butte mines alone have produced $23,000,000 in a single year, from their remarkable series of ore channels, five miles long and from 10 to 100 feet wide and of unknown depth. The great corporations at work here have some of the most costly and efficicient plants in the world. Immense deposits of copper occur at Butte, Copperopolis and other points, the ore yielding from 20 to 50 per cent of metal. Butte and Anaconda have sent out 120,000,000 pounds in a year, their product being one-fourth of the world's supply. Coal measures underlie 60000 square miles along the Missouri and Yellowstone. There is much poor lignite; but the mines near Livingston and Bozeman produce a valuable coking coal and large deposit occurs at other points." "The state abounds in scenic attractions, including the great cavern 20 miles west of Dillon, lined with shining crystals; the Beaver-Head rock and Twin Falls; Silver Springs, in the Ruby Valley; the high-walled Prickly-Pear and Hell-Gate Canons and many other gorges of romantic beauty; and the secluded Kalispel country. A small segment of the Yellowstone National Park lies within Montana. The mineral springs of Montana are numbered by hundreds and some of them have attained fame as health resorts, such as the Hotel Broadwater, near Helena; Puller's, Hunter's and Lewis Hot Springs and White Sulphur, Boulder, Pipestone and Clancy Springs. The Warm Springs are 40 in number, containing iron, soda and magnesia and with a temperature of from 150 to 170 degrees. Here rises the wigwam-shaped Geyser cone, with its perpetual smoke ascending like a council-fire, the vicinity of which became the grazing ground of white-tailed deer and was called by the Indians the Lodge of White-Tailed deer and the whites called it Deer Lodge Valley." Montana has 24 counties, in all of which newspapers are published. The leading cities are: Helena, Butte, Anaconda, Missoula, Bozeman, Great Falls, Livingston, Billings, Fort Benton and Deer Lodge City.

In making up lists for use in the State of Montana, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

NEBRASKA.

Capital, Lincoln. Settled at Bellevue by Americans in 1810. Population, 1,056,793. Area, 77510 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 9,944,826; value of farm lands, $105,932,541; annual value of farm products, $37,708,914. No state debt. Vote in 1896: Fus. 115,999; Rep. 103,364; G. Dem. 2885; Pro. 1243; Nat. 797; Social Labor, 183.

Nebraska is bounded on the north by South Dakota and the Missouri river; on the east by the Missouri river, which separates it from Iowa and Missouri; on the south by Kansas and Colorado and on the west by Wyoming. The surface gradually rises from a few hundred feet in the southeast to 6000 feet in the far west. Half the area of the state is in prairie lands. The eastern and northeastern portions of the state are drained by the Missouri river; the central portion by the Platte, which flows easterly across the state a distance of 1200 miles; and the southern border by the Republican which crosses the southwestern corner of the state. The Bad Lands of Dakota run into the northern part of Nebraska. The scenic features of this region are grand and the most important one is the canon of the Niobrara. The inhabitants of the state have made up for the natural deficiency in forests by planting over 700,000,000 trees. The state's manufactures consist of packed meats, canned goods, flour and farming implements and aggregate $50,000,000 a year. Omaha is the third greatest live stock market in the world. Agriculture is the leading industry. Nebraska ranks fourth among the corn producing states, raising 167,652,000 bushels annually; the state produces over 18,000,000 bushels of wheat, 50,000,000 bushels of oats annually, besides large crops of other grains. The state ranks fourth in the production of flax. Nearly $40,000,000 worth of horses, $4,000,000 worth of mules, $40,000,000 worth of cattle, $1,000,000 worth of sheep, $15,000,000 worth of swine and $11,000,000 worth of dairy products are produced every year. Nebraska has 90 counties and newspapers are published in all. The leading cities are: Omaha, Lincoln, Beatrice, Hastings, Nebraska City, Plattsmouth, Kearney, South Omaha, Grand Island and Fremont.

In making up lists for use in the State of Nebraska, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. Publisher's Statement.—The National Eagle is the oldest, most reliable and most exclusively read paper in Sullivan county. Its pages are clean and fully abreast the times in all its editorial and local work. As an advertising medium there is not its equal in the state as it circulates mostly at home—something unusual to country papers. The Eagle is issued from the largest newspaper and job printing office in this part of the state and its reputation for first-class work in all branches is fully published. A trial order will convince you of the truth of these statements.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Capital, Concord. Area, 9305 sq. miles. Population, 376,530. Vote in 1896: Rep. 57444; Dem, 21217; G. Dem. 3520; Pro. 779; Socialist Labor, 228; Nat. 49.

New Hampshire, the "Granite state," is bounded on the north by Canada; on the east by Maine and the Atlantic ocean; on the south by Massachusetts and on the west by Vermont, with the Connecticut river for the boundary. The White mountains cross the northern part of the state and culminate in Mount Washington, 6300 feet high. The scenic features of this region has led to its being called the "Switzerland of America" and thousands annually make it their summer home. All of the northern and western parts are drained by the Connecticut river and its branches, and the southeastern by the Merrimack. The soil along the Connecticut is unsurpassed and large crops of hay, grain and tobacco are raised. The Merrimack makes a rapid descent throughout most of its course and turns more mill wheels than any other stream in the world. New Hampshire is chiefly a lumbering and manufacturing state and summer playground. In the latter connection, her 18 miles of sea coast embrace several bathing beaches, hardly surpassed in attractiveness for summer visitors. Her industries embrace manufacturing, lumbering, agriculture, car, locomotive, fire engine and carriage building, granite quarrying and finishing, brewing of malt liquors and others of minor importance. All the northern portion is heavily wooded and the lumberman has carried the ax into the very heart of the White mountain region. The manufactures include the cotton and woolen fabrics of Manchester, Nashua and Portsmouth; the boots and shoes of Nashua, Dover, Keene and Rochester; the cars of Laconia; the locomotives and steam fire engines of Manchester; the granite of Concord; the gloves of Littleton and many others. The state has 10 counties and newspapers are published in all. The leading cities and towns are: Manchester, Nashua, Portsmouth, Dover, Somersworth, Keene and Littleton.

In making up lists for use in the State of New Hampshire, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

VERMONT.

Capital, Montepller. Settled at Brattleboro by Massachusetts men in 1763. Population, 332,205. Area, 9565 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 4,882,588; value of farm land, $109,346,010; annual value of farm products, $22,082,656. State debt, none. Vote in 1896: Rep. 51270; Dem. 10179; G. Dem. 1331; Pro. 733; Pop. 458.

Vermont, the northwestern state of New England, is bounded on the north by Quebec; on the east by New Hampshire; on the south by Massachusetts and on the west by New York. The Green mountains traverse it from north to south in two principal ranges, for the most part covered with evergreen forests, with fine pastures on the slopes. The highest mountains are: Mansfield 4389 feet and Killington 4241 feet. The state is drained by the Missisquoi, Lamoille, Winooski, Otter and Poultney rivers flowing into Lake Champlain, on the west and by numerous branches of the Connecticut on the east. The Green mountains, the lakes, Champlain, Memphremagog, and many smaller ones, and the cool, invigorating air during the summer months, combine to offer attractions that make the state a resort for pleasure seekers. There is rich soil in all the river valleys, and this state has the third largest per cent of improved farm land in the country. In proportion to size, Vermont is the leading dairy state, with an annual butter product of 25,000,000 lbs. Vermont maple sugar is famous the country over and the state furnishes one-third of the total American product. One million tons of hay are raised annually and potatoes and oats are produced to the value of $2,000,000 each. Vermont continues to lead the world in the quality of Spanish Merino sheep. Logs from the hills of Northern Vermont and Canada are floated down the rivers that flow into Lake Champlain, and Burlington is the third greatest lumber port in America. Rutland is the greatest marble centre in the country and Vermont furnishes three-fourths of the total product of the United States. Otter Creek valley contains 40 quarries and furnishes employment for 4500 men. The Vermont Marble Co., the largest in the world, with a capital of $3,000,000, owns the largest single quarry in the world, employs 1400 men and operates 20 miles of railway connecting its different plants. The other principal quarries are at Dorset, New Haven, Roxbury, Brandon, Middlebury, Swanton, St. Albans and Castleton. The granite industry of Vermont, second only to the marble business, centres around Barre, where there are 35 firms employing 1200 men, with an annual output of 20000 tons. Other granite towns are Dummerston and Ryegate. Slate quarries of considerable importance are at Fairhaven and Castleton. Half a million barrels of lime and more than five billion brick are made in the state every year. The manufactures include the farming and dairying implements of Bellows Falls, the parlor organs of Brattleboro, the scales of St. Johnsbury and Rutland, the paper of Olcott, the woolens of Burlington and the leather of the Hyde Park tanneries, the largest in the United States. The Fairbanks Scale Co. of St. Johnsbury is the largest of its kind in existence, with a force of 700 men and $2,500,000 capital and sends its product everywhere. There are 14 counties in Vermont and newspapers are published in 13. The principal towns are: Burlington, Rutland, St. Albans, Brattleboro, Barre, St. Johnsbury, Bennington, Bellows Falls and Montpelier.

In making up lists for use in the State of Vermont, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

NEW JERSEY.

Capital, Trenton. Settled at Bergen by Dutchmen in 1627. Population, 1,441,017. Area, 7815 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 2,929,773; value of farm land, $190,895,833; annual value of farm products, $29,650,756. No state debt. Vote in 1896: Rep. 221,367; Dem. 133,675; G. Dem. 6376; Pro. 5614; Social Labor, 3985.

New Jersey is a peninsula bounded on the north by New York; on the east by the Hudson river, New York bay and the Atlantic Ocean; on the south by the Atlantic ocean and Delaware river and bay and on the west by the Delaware river which separates it from Pennsylvania and Delaware. "New Jersey may be divided into the northern mountains, the central hill country and the southern pine forests, sandy plains and marshes." The state has 120 miles of sandy beaches, to which the people flock by hundreds of thousands in the warm months. New Jersey is drained by the Delaware, Hackensack, Passaic, Raritan, Great Egg Harbor and Little Egg Harbor rivers. The fisheries of the state employ 6000 people and the annual catch, mostly oysters, is valued at $3,000,000. Agriculture employs 30000 people who raise 600,000 tons of hay, 10,000,000 bushels of corn, 2,000,000 bushels of wheat, 2,000,000 baskets of peaches and 234,000 bushels cranberries. There are in this state 125,000 horses, 240,000 cattle, 150,000 hogs and 130,000 sheep. Manufacturing is the leading industry; this state leads in the production of silk, pottery, glass and cast iron pipe and ranks second in the manufacture of hats, third in the production of bluestone, fourth in the production of zinc and seventh in sandstone and iron and steel. There are 7000 manufactories, with $110,000,000 capital, 130,000 operatives and an annual product worth $250,000,000, the latter comprising 1,000,000 tons iron ore, 40000 tons zinc, 9,000,000 hats, $3,000,000 worth of glass and $17,000,000 worth of silk goods. New Jersey has the largest sewing machine company and linen and thread works in the world and the largest bottle glass works in America. There are 50 distilleries, making 20,000,000 gallons of apple brandy a year. "The Perth-Amboy Terra-Cotta Works use 15000 tons of clay and turn out $400,000 worth of goods yearly. Trenton makes more crockery than all the rest of the Atlantic states. The plastic and fire-clays of Trenton, Woodbridge and Amboy are pure and highly refractory, and have a high value in the arts. In a single year 350,000 tons of these clays have been worked, making a large proportion of American terra cotta, pottery and stone-ware, besides 160,000,000 red bricks and 16,000,000 fire-bricks. The Raritan and Delaware districts yearly send out 250,000 tons of fire-clay and potters' clay, valued at $460,000, and 80800 tons of fire-sand. From Sandy Hook to Salem extend beds of marl, clay marl and shell marl, of which 200,000 tons are used yearly for fertilizing the soil." Two-fifths of the area of New Jersey is in forests, the annual product of which in fuel and lumber is valued at $5,000,000. The Highlands of Navesink, Longbranch, Elberon, where President Garfield died; Asbury Park and Ocean Grove, famous Methodist camp meeting grounds; Sea Girt, with the camp of the New Jersey National Guard; Point Pleasant, the oldest seashore resort on the coast; Tom's River and Tuckerton, quiet old maritime villages; Atlantic City, both a summer and winter resort; Cape May in Delaware bay, Lakewood, Brown's Mills, Greenwood Lake, Lake Hopatcong and Schooley's Mountains are among New Jersey's many famous summer and winter health and pleasure resorts. New Jersey has 21 counties and newspapers are published in all. The leading cities are: Newark, Jersey City, Paterson, Camden, Trenton, Hoboken, Elizabeth, Bayonne, Orange and New Brunswick.

In making up lists for use in the State of New Jersey, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

Publisher's Statement.—The Bayonne Herald is in the 32d year of its publication, and is the leading paper of the city. Unsurpassed in quantity and quality of circulation, therefore the best advertising medium. It has a number of readers in Jersey City, Newark and New York, and is the favorite family paper of the municipality. The Herald pays particular attention to local affairs being foremost in the advocacy of all things pertaining to the progress and prosperity of the city. Bayonne is one of the most promising towns in New Jersey, with a fine water front, an is growing rapidly, affording an appreciative clientele to enterprising advertisers.

Democrat—Friday; Dem; Est.'87; 8p 18×23; Sub. $1.50. Burlington County Pub. Co. Circ.....②1750

Publisher's Statement.—The Democrat is the only paper in Burlington county that guarantees its circulation by affidavit, and further proves it has more legitimate subscribers than any other paper in the county. With all these advantages its rates are lower than the other papers. It is popular with the people because it stands boldly for their rights. Advertisers get direct results through its colums. Send for sample copy, note its handsome appearance, great quantity of news matter and the class of advertisers who use it. It almost surpasses belief that such a splendid county paper is issued for one dollar a year.

Mirror—Wednesday; Rep; Est.'18; 4p 25×30; Sub. $2. Chas. H. Folwell. Circ.....‡2500

Publisher's Statement.—The Mirror is the oldest and largest newspaper published in West Jersey and is the leading newspaper in Burlington county. Its circulation is exceeded by no other paper in the county. The Mirror may be found in the homes of the better classes and in almost every farm house in the county, which is one of the most prosperous agricultural communities to be found in the Eastern States. The Mirror is entirely home print, is enterprising, bright and newsy, yet not sensational. No paper in the county is held in such popular esteem. Advertise in the Mirror if you would get good results in Western New Jersey.

Publisher's Statement.—Considering the population of its field, the circulations of the Daily Home News, published every afternoon and the Weekly Home News, published every Thursday afternoon, are larger in proportion than that of any newspaper in New Jersey. The Home News is essentially a local paper. It has been established for 25 years and has been one of the conspicuous financial successes in the newspaper business in New Jersey. Its regular edition of fifty-six columns is often augmented to meet the demands of advertisers, who agree that no newspaper is so thoroughly and studiously read, advertisements and all, as the Home News. The Home News wants only the best of the foreign advertising, for which it asks a fair price, and gets it.

Publisher's Statement.—The Daily Post was established in 1892 and is the first daily paper to succeed in the Fourth, N. J., Congressional District. While it expounds the doctrine of Republicanism, it never fails to tell the truth on the other side, and this has won it many friends in the Democratic column. As a medium for advertising, the best can be said of it is that it employs no canvassers to build up mushroom circulation, but marches steadily upward, by publishing all the daily happenings while they are fresh. Foreign advertisers are always given the same attention as those in the local field.

Publisher's Statement.—The Courier-News is the only Republican paper published at Plainfield (or within several miles of the city) where the normal Republican majority is 1200. It covers thoroughly a district comprising a population of 32000. It has long featured church fraternity and society news and such other matters as are calculated to establish it firmly as a family newspaper. For many years it has been the favorite paper with local advertisers, because of its position as the leading paper in Plainfield.

Constitutionalist—Thursday; Dem; Est. '68; 8p 15×22; Sub. $2. A. L. Force. Circ....1050

Publisher's Statement.—Plainfield the city. The Daily Press the paper. The town and the newspaper that both double in size in a decade must be a pretty good combination for advertisers. Plainfield is recognized as the best of the suburban cities in the metropolitan district, and the Daily Press a model of up-to-date enterprise, an excellence in every detail. To reach Plainfield and the twelve outlying towns covered thoroughly by direct carrier service use The Daily Press for advertising.

Publisher's Statement.—The Albany Evening Journal, founded in 1830 by Thurlow Weed, is the leading newspaper in the capital city of the Empire state. From the day of its inception to the present time, a period of 68 years, it has been considered an authority on all subjects of the day, especially in political matters. It is a straight-out, reliable Republican newspaper and has a clientage among all classes. No paper in the country is better known than The Albany Journal. The price of the Journal was recently reduced from three cents to one cent a copy and it now enters more homes and business houses than any other newspaper published in central New York.

NEW YORK.

Capital, Albany. Settled at New York City by Dutchmen in 1623. Population, 5,997,853. Area, 49170 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 23,780,754; value of farm land, $1,056,176,741; annual value of farm products, $178,025,695. No state debt. Vote in 1896: Rep. 819,838; Fus. 551,396; G. Dem. 18950; Social Labor, 17667; Pro. 16052.

New York is bounded on the north by Lakes Erie and Ontario, St. Lawrence river and the Dominion of Canada; on the east by Lake Champlain, Vermont, Massachusetts and Connecticut; on the south by New Jersey, the Delaware river and Pennsylvania and on the west by Pennsylvania, Lakes Erie and Ontario and the Niagara river. New York is nearly as large as England. The surface rises from the Great Lakes toward the east, culminating in the Adirondacks in the northeast and the Catskills in the southeast. All the northern and western portions of the state are drained by the St. Lawrence system, while the southeastern portion is drained by the Hudson, Delaware and Susquehanna and their tributaries. New York leads the country in the number and beauty of its lakes. The most important are: Champlain, on the northeastern border, George, in the eastern part, Erie and Ontario on the wessern border, Otsego, Oneida, Skaneateles, Otisco, Owasco, Cayuga, Seneca, Canandaigua and Keuko, in the central New York group, Chautauqua in the southwestern portion of the state, Placid, Raquette, Blue Mountains, Tupper, St. Regis, Saranac, Schroon and Luzerne in the Adirondack group, and over 200 others in northern New York. Niagara Falls, Genesee Falls, Ausable Chasm, Chateaugay Chasm, Watkins Glen, Keene Valley, Lake George, Saratoga, Richfield Springs, the Adirondack and Catskill mountains are among New York's famous summer resorts. In agriculture New York ranks third among the states of the Union, with an annual product worth $178,000,000; first in the production of hay, potatoes, broomcorn, buckwheat and hops, annually raising 5,000,000 tons of hay, 30,000,000 bushels of potatoes, 36,000,000 bushels of oats, 20,000,000 bushels of corn, 9,000,000 bushels of wheat, 7,500,000 bushels of barley, 3,000,000 bushels of rye, 6,500,000 pounds of tobacco, 300,000 bushels of buckwheat, one-sixth of all the fruit in the country, one-seventh of all the butter, one-third of the cheese and one-half of the hops. The state ranks first in the number of nurseries, has 78 seed farms and $20,000,000 invested. New York is the greatest manufacturing state in America in the value and variety of its products, of which the leading ones are clothing, flour, malt liquors and iron and steel goods, with an annual output worth nearly $1,750,000,000 and an invested capital of over $750,000,000. The state ranks first in the production of blue stone, fourth in limestone and fifth in sandstone, pig iron and steel. The annual output of pig iron is 359,000 tons and of steel 113,000 tons. There are important oil interests in western New York. The state leads the Union in maritime commerce, with imports reaching $500,000,000 and exports $400,000,000 annually. Over $1,650,000,000 worth of freights are hauled over the railroads, $150,000,000 worth are transported via canal and $250,000,000 on the sounds and lakes. Newspapers are published in all the 60 counties of New York. The leading cities are: Greater New York, Buffalo, Rochester, Albany, Syracuse, Troy, Utica, Binghamton, Yonkers and Elmira.

In making up lists for use in the State of New York, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

A VALUABLE SUGGESTION. "It has the recommendation of being short." Short cuts are good when we are familiar with them, but otherwise dangerous. The short cut to success in business is to advertise; but the inexperienced often find it leads to failure. As with any other business, advertising takes years of patient study to master. It is therefore impossible for the busy merchant to give the matter the necessary time and attention. It is the most natural thing in the world for one who has not the special experience to judge lightly of its requirements, but if he were to recall the labor and time it has taken to become proficient in his own line he would comprehend at a glance the importance of engaging experienced assistance in so important a department. For nearly fifty years we have been showing thousands of business men the recognized "short cut" to success by giving them the benefit of our experience in advertising. We have also been able, owing to our long connection with publishers, to offer exceptional terms. We are always on the alert—constantly infusing new blood into our business—and our ripened experience tells us instantly what to use, how to use it, and what to pay for it. There are many signs of improvement in finance and commerce, and now is the time to begin, or to extend advertising. Competition in business will be keener than ever, and the need of experience proportionately increased. We shall be pleased to have you consult us.

Publisher's Statement.—The Batavia News maintained an average circulation of 5152 during 1898. It is pronounced by so severe a critic as Printer's Ink "an unusually good paper," and by many competent judges is said to be at the head of the list of small city dailies, both in excellence as a newspaper and in circulation pro rata to population. It is a local paper, devoting most of its space to chronicles of the doings of people in the immediate vicinity of Batavia, but it has Associated Press dispatches and is printed on a perfecting press. The leading general advertisers use its columns.

Publisher's Statement.—The best newspaper, and the only Republican daily in Warren County, N. Y., is the Glens Falls Daily Times. Its growth in circulation since its new ownership and management in Jan., 1898, has been more than thirty per cent., and its plans for 1899 insure even greater growth. While it has a generous sprinkling of readers in outlying neighborhoods and hamlets, the bulk of them are to be found in the four sister villages of Glens Falls, South Glens Falls, Sandy Hill and Fort Edward, in each of which The Times is authority on local matters.

Publisher's Statement.—The Sentinel is a 12-page, six-column quarto, home printed paper and has double the circulation of any paper printed in Washington county. Granville being located on the Vermont line, the Sentinel is exclusively the home paper in many Rutland county, Vt. border towns. The Sentinel's field is rich in mineral, agricultural and industrial wealth and advertisers always find the investment profitable. The Sentinel is the official paper of Washington county and is conceded by the press and people to be the leading paper of the county. The Sentinel has a larger local and vicinity advertising patronage than any other country paper in the state.

GREATER NEW YORK, 3,400,000, the largest city in the western hemisphere and second largest in the world; terminus New York Central, West Shore, New York, New Haven & Hartford, Central of New Jersey, Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, Erie, Lehigh Valley, Long Island, New Jersey & New York, New York, Ontario & Western, New York, Susquehanna & Western, Pennsylvania and Staten Island Rapid Transit Rys.; on one of the finest harbors in the world, with daily passenger and freight steamers to all important Hudson river and Long Island sound ports, 14 transatlantic lines, with weekly and semi-weekly sailings and other steamer lines or irregular steamers to every port of importance in either hemisphere. The greater city includes the boroughs of Manhattan (New York City on Manhattan Island), Bronx (New York City north of Manhattan Island, Brooklyn, Queens (Queens County) and Richmond (Staten Island), with an area of 307 1-2 square miles, 353 miles of water front, 1002 3-4 miles of paved streets, 532 miles of street railways and 6587 1-2 acres of parks. It requires 330,000,000 gals. of water for the daily supply. Three quarters of a million New Yorkers ride on the elevated railroads every day. Here are found "men from every nation under Heaven," 900,000 Germans, 850,000 Irish, 170,000 English, 105,000 Russians, 100,000 Italians, 50000 Scotch and others in smaller numbers. The export trade of New York is two-fifths and the import trade two-thirds that for the whole country and the annual value of both is $876,000,000. Greater New York has 56000 manufacturing establishments, with $1,200,000,000 capital, employing 680,000 people, with monthly pay roll of $35,500,000 and manufacturing goods worth $1,500,000,000 annually. New York's banking transactions have reached nearly $38,000,000,000 in a single year, more than double those of the 43 next largest cities in America. The valuation of the greater city is $4,500,000,000.

BOROUGH OF MANHATTAN, 1,884,436; terminus New York Central and New York, New Haven & Hartford Rys.; on Manhattan Island, with a number of bridges to the main land, the largest and most important being the famous Brooklyn bridge across the East river, the greatest suspension bridge in the world, with a central span of 1595 feet 6 inches and a total length of 6537 feet, built from 1870 to 1883 at a cost of $15,000,000; over 130,000 people cross every day. Two new bridges, the New York and New Jersey and the new East river, both larger than Brooklyn bridge, are provided for. A few years ago the great Brooklyn bridge, already referred to, was the most prominent object in the skyline of lower New York, but within a decade the growing business of the city, cramped laterally, has been forced to seek relief by climbing and a score of 15, 20 and 30 story office buildings confront the stranger or returning tourist coming up the bay, and New York has gone ahead of Chicago as a city of skyscrapers. The Ivins Syndicate building, 29 stories, 382 feet; St. Paul, 26 stories, 308 feet; American Surety, 23 stories, 306 feet 1 inch and American Tract Society, 23 stories, 306 feet, are the most noteworthy and there are a score of others from 12 to 20 stories. Another development of a decade is the growing number and increasing splendor of New York's palatial hotels. The Waldorf-Astoria, Manhattan, Holland, Imperial, Majestic, New Netherland, New Hoffman, Normandie, Plaza and Empire, are the leaders of a class of great hostelries that have made American hotels famous the world over. Among the city's financial interests are: The United States subtreasury, where over $100,000,000 of bullion are received and assayed every year; Wall street, the sole money market of the land; the Cotton, Stock and Produce Exchanges, occupying massive and handsome granite buildings; the Post Office, where 500,000,000 letters are handled annually and the Clearing House, in a beautiful new building of the Corinthian order. The total business of the Clearing House since its inception in 1853 was $1,185,365,139,776.20. The largest daily transaction on record, Feb. 28, 1881, was $295,822,442.37. One of the first objects to meet the view of the stranger coming to our shores is the Bartholdi statue, "Liberty Enlightening the World," on Liberty Island, two miles down the bay. Opposite Wall street is "Old Trinity," built in 1697, burned in 1776 and rebuilt in 1846. In the churchyard lie buried Capt. Lawrence, Alexander Hamilton, Robert Livingston and Robert Fulton. One of the most interesting points in the city is City Hall and Printing House Square. City Hall is a handsome structure in classic architecture. In the Governor's room are a rare collection of portraits, Washington's desk and many other relics. In Printing House Square, opposite, stand the Tribune, Sun, Journal, World, Press, Times, News, and Staats Zeitung buildings. In the same vicinity are St. Paul's Chapel, Astor House and statues of Benjamin Franklin, Nathan Hale and Horace Greeley. In St. Paul's Chapel, Washington and Gov. Geo. Clinton worshipped in opposite pews. In the churchyard lie the remains of Thomas Addis Emmet, George Frederick Cooke and Gen. Richard Montgomery. On Herald Square is the new Herald building, a beautiful white marble creation in Italian renaissance. In the square stands the bronze statue of William E. Dodge. In this vicinity are Edwin Booth's Theatre, Masonic Temple and the Eden Musee. At the corner of 57th street and 7th avenue is Carnegie Music Hall, one of the most perfect buildings in the world in ventilation and acoustic properties, with a seating capacity of 3000. On 59th street, overlooking Central Park, are the Navarro Flats, called the Madrid, Cordova, Lisbon and Grenada, costing $7,000,000. An unique and beautiful building is Madison Square Garden, occupying a whole block on the square, with its graceful tower and gilded Diana. Here occur the fancy balls, horse, dog and flower shows, circus in the spring, concerts in midsummer and conventions in autumn. The auditorium seats 15000. Fronting Madison Square on Broadway is the Worth Monument, statues of Wm. Seward and Roscoe Conkling and monument to Admiral Farragut, the most artistic piece of sculpture in New York. Just South of Madison Square are Dr. Parkhurst's (Presbyterian) Church and the Judson Memorial Church. At the entrance to Washington Square is the Washington Memorial Arch of white Tuckahoe marble, the finest work of its kind in America. On the southeast corner of Broadway and 39th street is the Casino, copied after the Alhambra at Granada in Spain. The Metropolitan Opera House, occupying the whole block bounded by Broadway, 7th avenue, 39th and 40th streets, is the home of Grand Opera. This building cost $1,500,000, seats 3500 people and has the largest stage and curtain in America. On 142d street and Convent avenue is "The Grange," the home of Alexander Hamilton and here may be seen a grove of 13 stately trees, planted by Hamilton, to typify the 13 original states. Club life in New York reaches its perfection in the Union League, Century and Manhattan clubs, with magnificent homes. In Union Square, between 14th and 17th streets are the equestrian statue of Washington, bronze statue of Lincoln and the statue of Lafayette by Bartholdi. In the vicinity are the Rialto (Vanity Fair), Century Publishing House, Tiffany's, Tammany Hall, Steinway Hall, Irving Theatre, Academy of Music, Tony Pastor's and the old Van Buren mansion. One minute's walk on Broadway are the Vienna Cafe, St. Denis Hotel and Grace Episcopal Church. On the corner of 4th avenue and 23d street is the National Academy of Design, a beautiful building copied from the Palace of the Doges in Venice. On Fifth avenue, world famous as a church and residence street and latterly as a great hotel thoroughfare, is St. Patrick's (R. Catholic) Cathedral, the grandest church edifice in America. The park system of Greater New York is magnificent in extent and variety, embracing 50 parks, squares, drives and breathing places. Central park, 862 acres, is the largest and embraces miles of walks, drives, ponds, gardens and grassy, shaded lawns. In the northern end of Central Park, near 5th avenue and 82d street, is the Metropolitan Museum of Art, "second only to the British Museum in Babylonian Cylinders and unique in Cyprian and Antiquities." This collection leads America in paintings and statues and recently acquired the most complete series of Mummy cases in the world. Its collections are valued at $4,000,000. Near the Metropolitan Museum is "Cleopatra's Neeedle, an Egyptian Obelisk thousands of years old, presented to America by the late Khedive of Egypt. On Manhattan Square, between 8th and 9th avenues and 77th and 81st streets and connected with Central Park, is the American Museum of Natural History, with splendid buildings containing fine collections of mammals, birds, fishes, reptiles and other things of interest to the scientist. The Mall, a shaded ground 200 feet wide and a third of a mile long, with a ball ground nearby is thronged with children every afternoon in the warm weather. The Riverside Drive is a grand speedway, overlooking the Hudson, extending from 71st to 127th streets—to Claremont Heights where towers the beautiful and classic tomb of Gen. Grant. Morningside Heights will shortly be the grandest architectural centre of equal area in America, if not in the world. Here are to be the Protestant Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine, being finished at a cost of $15,000,000, St. Luke's Hospital, the Teachers' College and the new buildings of Columbia University, with Grant's tomb nearby. Besides Columbia, Greater New York is the seat of New York University, College of the City of New York, New York Normal College, Teachers' College, Manhattan and St. Francis Xavier (R. Catholic) Colleges, General (Prot. Episcopal) and Union (Presbyterian) Theological Seminaries, Nautical School of the Port of New York, College of Physicians, New York Medical College and Hospital for Women, Polyclinic Medical School and Hospital, Postgraduate Medical School, Women's Medical College of New York, New York College of Pharmacy, Dentistry and Veterinary Surgeons, New York Cooking School, University and New York Law Schools, Conservatory of Music, New York German Conservatory of Music, Metropolitan College of Music, St. Joseph's Institution for Improved Instruction of Deaf Mutes, Workingman's School and New York Trades School. There are nearly 70 libraries in the city, of which the three most important, the Astor, Tilden and Lenox have been united on a single foundation to be known as the New York Public Library and are to have a splendid new building.

BOROUGH OF BROOKLYN, 1,189,000; Kings, 1,189,000; on Long Island and Long Island & Long Branch Rys. and Pennsylvania and West Shore Rys. via bridge and ferries; on East river and New York bay with passenger and freight steamers to all parts of the world. Up to last year the fourth city in America, now the second largest borough of the second largest city in the world; includes Bath Beach, Bay Ridge, Bensonhurst, Canarsie, East New York, Flatbush, Flatlands, Fort Hamilton, Gravesend, Kensington, Lifferts Park, Mapleton, Sheepshead Bay, South Greenfield and West Brooklyn. There are 10583 manufactories with combined capital of $161,730,500, employing 109,292 people, with monthly wage receipts of $5,437,259 and an annual manufactured product valued at $269,244,147. The leading concerns are: American Mfg. Co., Chelsea Jute Mills, jute bagging; American and Mollenhauer Sugar Refining companies, Arbuckle Bros., coffee; Peter Cooper Glue factory, Martin Kalbfleisch Chemical Co., Liebman's Sons Brewing Co., John W. Masury & Son, paints; Chas. A Schieren & Co., leather belting; Gutta Percha & Rubber Mfg. Co., Eberhard Faber, pencils; Mergenthaler Linotype Co. and John Englis & Sons, shipbuilders. The wholesale interests of Brooklyn are large but are closely identified with those of Manhattan Borough. Brooklyn has 436 churches with 385,434 members and property worth $26,589,576; of these Plymouth (Congregational) Church, the seat of Henry Ward Beecher's long labors and of those of Rev. Lyman Abbott in our own time, is the most famous. There are 118 schools, with property valued at $9,500,000. The cities' facilities for higher education include Adelphi College and Pratt and Brooklyn Polytechnic Institutes all of the first rank among American Colleges and Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences. The corrective and charitable institutions of Brooklyn include King's County Jail, Almshouse (Flatbush), Penitentiary, King's County, King's Avenue, U. S. Naval, Astoria, Brooklyn Eye and Ear and Long Island College hospitals; nine institutions of government and official aid, 48 hospitals, dispensaries and asylums, besides those mentioned; 13 institutions for the relief of the aged, 38 for the relief of children, 21 for special relief, 12 for temporary relief and six reformatories. The park system of Brooklyn has probably no superior in attractiveness in the world. The parks which are now open to the public are: Prospect Park, Washington, Bedford, Tompkins, City, Municipal, City Hall, Carroll, Winthrop, Ridgewood, Sunset, Twelfth Ward, Bushwick, Underhill, Stuyvesant, Cuyler, Cooper Gore, Eighteenth Ward, Wood Point Gore, East Side lands, Brooklyn Heights, Gravel Pit, Windsor Terrace, Gravel Pit, Ocean Parkway, Parade Ground, Coney Island Concourse. The total number of acres comprised within these parks is 802 1-2. In addition to this list there are certain plots of ground which are not yet called parks, but which have been improved and thrown open to public use. These are Dyker Beach, Bensonhurst Beach, Lincoln Terrace, Canarsie Beach, New Lots play ground, Cooper Park, Irving Square, Saratoga Square, Brooklyn, Forest and Lincoln Parks. The area covered by these last mentioned places is 780 acres, bringing the grand total of public ground in the city to 1582 1-2 acres. Besides the parks other facilities for the enjoyment of the public have been provided. Thoroughfares and drives have been provided for the horsemen and wheelmen. The roadways now open are Ocean Parkway, five and a half miles; Eastern Parkway, two and a half miles; Fort Hamilton avenue, four miles; Bay Parkway, known also as Twenty-second avenue, three miles; Seventy-fifth street, two miles; Bay Ridge shore drive, three miles; Eastern Parkway extension, two and a half miles. The total of these drives is twenty-two and a half miles. The largest and most beautiful of these pleasure grounds is Prospect Park. The vale of Cashmere is famous. Here are the Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial Arch, bronze figure of J. S. T. Stranahan, bronze busts of John Howard Payne, Thomas Moore, Washington Irving, Beethoven and Mozart. On Lookout Hill is a beautiful marble shaft to the memory of the 400 Maryland soldiers who died defending the rear of the American army after the battle of Long Island, erected in '95. Near the Memorial Arch in Park Plaza stands the bronze statue of Maj.-Gen. Gouverneur Kimble Warren. In the front park of the flower garden, overlooking Prospect Park, is the bronze statue of Abraham Lincoln. Forest Park, 540 acres; Dyker Beach Park, 144 acres, the finest beach park in the world; Canarsie Beach Park, 40 acres; and Bensonhurst Beach, eight acres, are, after Prospect, the most attractive of Brooklyn's park system. Greenwood Cemetery rivals the famous Mt. Auburn near Cambridge, Mass. The Brooklyn Navy Yard occupies 112 acres, with three miles of water front on Wallabout channel. Here are the usual offices, extensive machine shops and a large dry dock. Brooklyn has many handsome public and private buildings, the most striking of which are those of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences, Brooklyn Eagle, 23d Regiment Armory, Jay Street Fire Headquarters and Union League, Germania and Montauk clubs. The Prospect Hill Water Tower and Wallabout Clock Tower are also handsome structures. The city is connected with Manhattan Borough by the great Brooklyn bridge, while the new East River bridge, a suspension 118 feet wide with steel towers rising 340 feet above the water, will soon span the river connecting the foot of Broadway, Brooklyn, with the foot of Grand street Manhattan, and a great steel truss bridge will stretch across in two spans with a central pier on Blackwell's island to 65th street, Manhattan, in the near future. Over 300,000,000 people are carried on Brooklyn's street railroads every year. Val. $603,796,463. Express; Telegraph. First Nat. Bank. Hotel St. George.

Brighton. Other manufactories are Monroe Eckstein Brewing Co. CASTLETON CORNERS; P. Sandford Ross, shipbuilders, CLIFTON; McCabe Bros., Kiernan & Monahan, brickyards, GREEN RIDGE; B. Kreischer & Sons, fire and front brick, KREISCHERVILLE; American Linoleum Mfg. Co., largest in America, LINOLEUMVILLE; Hecker-Jones-Jewell Co., flouring mill, MARINER'S HARBOR; S. S. White Dental Mfg. Co., PRINCE'S BAY; Bachmann Brewing Co., ROSEBANK; International Ultramarine Works, ROSSVILLE. The oyster industry is carried on mainly on the east side of the island between Elm Tree Lighthouse, near New Dorp and Ward's Point, at the extreme southern point of the island—this district embracing the cultivated grounds—while the whole west shore of the island from Tottenville to Holland's Hook, embraces the natural-growth district. The oysters are usually taken from the natural oyster beds along the Staten Island sound and Newark bay and planted on the east shore of Prince's bay, where they are again transplanted at the end of about three years. A great many Staten Island oysters are shipped to Europe, where their excellent quality commands a ready market. A large quantity of seed oysters are sent annually to California. There are planted annually about 125,000 to 150,000 bushels of oysters, while the output annually is estimated at 200,000 bushels. There are from 400 to 500 men employed in the oyster business, while from 75 to 100 oyster sloops of from 5 to 35 tons, are necessary to carry on the business. A number of Staten Island oystermen own oyster beds along the Atlantic coast from Maine to Georgia. There are nearly 40 planters and wholesale dealers. Richmond's benevolent institutions include Sailors' Snug Harbor, Home for Destitute Children of Seamen and S. R. Smith Infirmary at NEW BRIGHTON; Staten Island Hospital, ROSEBANK; Staten Island Eye and Ear Hospitals, TOMPKINSVILLE; U. S. Marine Hospital and Mariners' Family Asylum, CLIFTON; Home of order "Sons of Liberty," CONCORD; Nursery and Child's Hospital, CASTLETON CORNERS; Mission of the Immaculate Virgin, PLEASANT PLAINS. RICHMOND has headquarters U. S. Lighthouse Department and New York City Quarantine Station, Richmond beach, Midland Beach and numerous smaller resorts attracts summer visitors. Over 10000 cyclists come here during the season.

Publisher's Statement.—The Weekly Ithacan is the favorite paper in the homes of the better class of farmers and village residents of the thrifty population which surrounds Ithaca in Tompkins and adjoining counties. It also enjoys a fair city circulation. Independent in politics, it contains matter of interest to every member of the family, and is eagerly sought after for its town and vicinity news, having a larger and better corps of country correspondents than any other paper in this part of the state. Its popularity is well sustained, and its exceptional value as an advertising medium is appreciated by the discriminating advertiser.

Publisher's Statement.—The best daily paper in Ithaca is the News. Its circulation is almost wholly among the middle class, the people who have money to spend. Its circulation is steadily growing, and our own delivery system, assures the despatch of each copy to its destination. Its circulation is confined very closely to the city of Ithaca and villages in Tompkins and adjoining counties. It should be used by advertisers who desire to work this field. The result will not disappoint. For thorough, high class business, use the News.

that father, mother and the children want to see. It is read by what is familiarly known as the purchasing class; and being well printed and its advertisements well set, is a favorite with advertisers. The circulation of the Daily Journal averages about 2000 and the Semi-Weekly about 950. Send for sample copies and advertising rates. We will be pleased to answer enquiries. The paper was established in 1833, sixty-five years ago. There is some good reason why it has staid so long. Probably it prints what the people want to read.

Publisher's Statement.—The leading newspaper at Newburgh is the Newburgh Daily News. By leading, we mean all that the word implies. The Daily News has double the circulation of either of its afternoon contemporaries, and more than both of them combined. It publishes a full telegraphic report daily, received over special wire direct to its own editorial rooms. In addition, its columns teem with local news, attractively presented, and its editorials are notably bright and breezy. It is the recognized medium of the home advertiser, and foreign advertisers long since discovered that the Newburgh Daily News is the paper to use to get results in Newburgh and vicinity.

Publisher's Statement.—The Gazette is the standard advertising medium of Niagara Falls and Niagara county, the one local advertisers depend upon to bring results. In its 45 years it has never been so prosperous as it is to-day. The only perfecting press in the county, type setting machines, etc., stamp it as successful, and advertisers know that a newspaper does not win success unless it is deserved. We invite the most far-reaching investigation as to the quantity and quality of our circulation in the city of Niagara Falls and in the surrounding towns, including Niagara Falls, Canada.

Publisher's Statement.—The Times is practically the only Democratic paper in Washington county and the leading Democratic paper in northern New York. Its list is confined mostly to its county and it has a class of readers—Democrats—that no other paper has or can get. Advertisers, therefore, who want to cover Washington county, cannot do so without being in The Times. It is a high grade country weekly established in 1823 and bears a high reputation. It has the confidence of the people, which it has won by the honesty of its purpose and its advertising as well as its news columns, are kept clean.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Capital, Raleigh. Settled at Roanoke Island by Englishmen in 1585. Population, 1,617,390. Area, 52250 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 22,639,644; value of farm lands, $135,793,602; annual value of farm products, $51,729,611. State debt, $7,538,567.79. Vote in 1896: Dem. 174,488; Rep. 152,222; Pro. 675; Nat. 247.

North Carolina is bounded on the north by Virginia; on the east by the Atlantic ocean; on the south by the Atlantic ocean, South Carolina and Georgia and on the west by Tennessee. The state comprises a strip of fertile lowlands some fifty miles in width along the coast, an upland belt just west of the lowlands and the western portion is mountainous. North Carolina is drained by the Roanoke, Pamlico, Neuse, Cape Fear, Chowan, Yadkin and Catawba rivers, all navigable for considerable distances. This state furnishes two-thirds of all the turpentine and rosin used in America. The annual production of corn is 36,000,000 bushels, wheat 5,000,000 bushels, oats 5,000,000 bushels, sweet potatoes 5,000,000 bushels, cotton 400,000 bales, tobacco 35,000,000 pounds, rice 6,000,000 pounds, peanuts 300,000 bushels and the state ranks first in the production of medicinal herbs. Over 100,000 barrels of fish and 170,000 bushels of oysters are taken every year. More than $20,000,000 in gold have been taken from North Carolina's mines. The state's manufactures aggregate $25,000,000 a year. The annual production of cotton goods amounts to $3,000,000, tobacco $2,000,000, tar and turpentine $2,000,000 a year. Asheville, Hot Springs, Waynesville, Coesar's Head, Haywood White Sulphur Springs, Sparkling Catawba Springs, Arden Park, Glen Alpine and Cloudland Hotel are the state's most famous summer resorts. Newspapers are published in 84 of the 96 counties of North Carolina. The leading cities are: Wilmington, Raleigh, Charlotte, Asheville, Winston, Newberne, Goldsboro, Salisbury, Fayetteville and Washington.

In making up lists for use in the State of North Carolina, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

RALEIGH, POST.....137

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING is an art of which no one knows all. We do not claim to know everything about such a difficult problem, yet the fifty years' record of our house and the experience of expending millions of dollars in newspaper advertising should rank us among those who know something that would be of inestimable value to those who lack experience and knowledge which only time and large transactions can develop. Handling as we do at the present time the newspaper business of many of the largest and most successful advertisers in America, we can consistently claim to possess superior advantages for successfully placing newspaper advertising of every description. We should be pleased to consult with anyone on the subject. Pettingill & Co., the oldest advertising agency.

NORTH DAKOTA.

Capital, Bismarck. Settled at Pembina by French Canadians in 1780. Population, 182,719. Area, 70795 sq. miles. State debt, $540,000. Vote in 1896: Rep. 26335; Dem. 20686; Pro. 358.

North Dakota is bounded on the north by the Dominion of Canada; on the east by the Red river of the North, which separates it from Minnesota; on the south by South Dakota and on the west by Montana. The surface of the state, for the most part level, is drained by the Missouri river, Red River of the North and their tributaries. Farming is the leading industry; there are 50000 acres under cultivation and 60,000,000 bushels of the finest wheat in the world, 700,000 bushels of corn and 16,647,000 bushels of oats are annually grown. There are 1,000,000 farm animals worth nearly $20,000,000. "Vast quantities of pine logs are floated down from the Otter-Tail and Red Lake pineries to the sawmills at Grank Forks. This region is the garden of the state and nearly always produces rich harvests, even when some other localities are injured by droughts. Several of the bonanza wheat farms of the Red River Valley are from 5000 to 15000 acres each in area, with a large number above 1000 acres. The famous Dalrymple farm covers 75000 acres; and the domains of the Grandins are even more extensive. The most thorough system governs these estates; and their large forces of men are organized into divisions, each with its superintendent and foreman and buildings, and all reporting to a general manager. With gang-plows, seeders, self-binding harvesters, steam threshers and other modern implements, the cost of raising wheat has been reduced to 35 cents a bushel. The wheat of North Dakota is unexcelled in quality and has been cultivated on a broad and cheap scale." Of the 55 counties in North Dakota, newspapers are published in 37. The leading towns are: Fargo, Grand Forks, Bismarck, Jamestown, Wahpeton, Grafton, Lisbon, Mandan, Devil's Lake and Casselton.

In making up lists for use in the State of North Dakota, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

FARGO, FORUM.....194

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING is an art of which no one knows all. We do not claim to know everything about such a difficult problem, yet the fifty years' record of our house and the experience of expending millions of dollars in newspaper advertising should rank us among those who know something that would be of inestimable value to those who lack experience and knowledge which only time and large transactions can develop. Handling as we do at the present time the newspaper business of many of the largest and most successful advertisers in America, we can consistently claim to possess superior advantages for successfully placing newspaper advertising of every description. We should be pleased to consult with anyone on the subject. Pettingill & Co., the oldest advertising agency.

Publisher's Statement.—In character of readers and circulation, The Forum and Republican has no peer in North Dakota; this combination has been secured because the publishers have for twenty years been in the newspaper business at Fargo, N. D. The advertising rates are not as low as the lowest, but the field can be better reached by the Forum than by any other medium or mediums in the northwest. A trial will convince you. OHIO.

Capital, Columbus. Settled at Marietta by New Englanders, led by Rufus Putman in 1788. Population, 3,672,316. Area, 41060 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 24,529,226; value of farm land, $1,127,497,353; annual value of farm products, $156,777,152. State debt, $7,014,767. Vote in 1896: Rep. 525,991; Dem. 474,-882; Pop. 26015; Pro. 5068; Nat. 2716; G. Dem. 1875.

Ohio is bounded on the north by Michigan and Lake Erie; on the east by Pennsylvania and the Ohio river, which separates it from West Virginia; on the south by the Ohio river, which separates it from West Virginia and Kentucky. A watershed extends from near the northeast corner of the state to Greenville, near the Indiana line. The country north of the divide is drained by the Maumee, navigable for 18 miles, the Sandusky navigable 17 miles and many smaller streams flowing into Lake Erie; south of the divde the country is drained by the navigable Muskingum, the Big and Little Maumee, Scioto and Hockhocking rivers, tributaries of the Ohio. Agriculture is the leading industry of the state. There are 10,000,000 acres under cultivation, with annual crops of corn, 94,092,000 bushels; wheat, 45,531,000 bushels; oats, 28,523,000 bushels; rye, 892,256 bushels; buckwheat, 122,422 bushels; potatoes, 11,362,606 bushels; hay, 2,009,179 tons; tobacco, 37,853,563 pounds and wool, 18,287,869 pounds worth altogether, $198,000,000. Ohio has 500,000 acres in orchards and produces 31,000,000 bushels of apples, 1,500,000 bushels of peaches, 270,000 bushels of pears and 400,000 bushels of strawberries annually. There are 6000 acres of vineyards, that produce 30,000,000 pounds of grapes and 2,500,000 gallons of wine a year. There are in the state 800,000 horses and mules, worth $68,204,956; 1,750,000 cattle, worth $39,144,479; 3,700,000 sheep and 2,700,000 hogs, worth $13,258,212. Ohio produces 50,000,000 pounds of butter, 40,000,000 pounds of cheese, 50,000,000 gallons of milk and $5,000,000 worth of poultry and eggs every year. Ohio has 393 nurseries, with $4,178,518 capital and 32 seed farms worth $2,110,000. This state has 12354 manufacturing establishments, principally rolling mills, iron manufactories, glass factories, breweries and distilleries, with $185,127,506 capital, 230,000 employees and an annual product worth $259,834,570. Ohio makes one-fourth of all the farming tools in the country. Ohio ranks third in coal mining, with 10000 square miles of coal bed, 700 mines and 20000 miners and an annual product of 9,976,787 tons, valued at $9,355,400. The state ranks second in the petroleum industry, with an annual product valued at $2,173,995 and first in the production of sandstone, quarrying over $3,000,000 worth annually. There are 100 iron furnaces, with 20000 workmen doing an annual business of $35,000,000. The state has also $3,000,-000 invested in natural gas; and produces 400,000 barrels of salt annually. Sandusky, the largest fresh water fish market in the world, employs 2000 men and has $1,000,000 invested in the business. There are valuable forests along the Ohio and Maumee rivers. Newspapers are published in all of Ohio's 88 counties. The leading cities are: Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Toledo, Dayton, Youngstown, Springfield, Akron, Canton and Zanesville.

In making up lists for use in the State of Ohio, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall beglad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

It is the greatest bituminous coal market in the world and the largest wholesale hardware market east of Chicago. Cleveland is one of the greatest cities in the country in manufactures and leads all others in the production of heavy forgings, heavy street railway machinery, electric dynamos and carbons, steel tired car wheels, wire and wire nails, nuts, bolts, malleable castings, carriage and wagon hardware, vapor stoves, sewing machine cabinets, shoddy, blankets, paints, and other important requirements of civilization. An 1895 canvass showed that there were 2300 manufacturing establishments in Cleveland, employing 52000 persons, 43000 of whom were employed in 400 establishments whose products, of about 20000 different kinds, are sold beyond the city limits and in almost every country of the globe. Of the number employed only about 5000 are woman and juniors. The 23000 factories make about 100,000 different kinds of articles. The leading manufactories are: Cleveland Rolling Mills Co., capital, $4,000,000, 4000 employees, monthly pay roll $165,000, annual tonnage, 200,000; Cleveland Machine Screw Co., H. P. Nail Co., steel rods and wire goods, largest in the world; Eberhard Mfg. Co., carriage hardware; National Casting Co., Globe Iron Works Co., W. S. Tyler Wire Works Co., Standard Tool Co., White Sewing Machine Co., Hoffman Bicycle Co., National Carbon Co., Walker Co., electrical machinery; Grasselli Chemical Co., F. Muhlhauser Co., wool shoddies; and Grief Bros., cooperage. Cleveland is the trade and jobbing centre for northern Ohio, western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, eastern Indiana and southern Michigan with 3,000,000 pop. The following are conservative estimates of the annual wholesale transactions in a few leading mercantile lines in Cleveland: Dry goods, $9,000,000; groceries, $9,000,000; produce, through commission merchants, $4,750,000; hardware, $4,000,000; merchant iron and steel out of store, $3,250,000; boots, shoes and rubbers, $2,800,000; rubber goods, $2,300,000; cloaks, (from manufacturers) $2,250,000; clothing, made up, $2,000,000; millinery and straw goods, $2,000,000; books and stationery, $2,000,000; drugs and druggists sundries, $2,000,000; teas, coffees and spices (exclusive of sales by wholesale grocers in these lines) $1,900,000; crockery, $900,000; furniture, $500,000; toys and notions, $350,000. Cleveland is the largest shipbuilding port in the United States. Its ship yards turned out more tonnage in 1895 than the aggregate product of all the other ship yards on the Great Lakes. The lake tonnage owned in Cleveland represents more than $20,000,000, surpassing every American city save New York. The aggregate tonnage of vessels owned in Cleveland is over 298,735 tons. Eighty per cent of the tonnage used in the iron ore traffic, the greatest on the lakes is owned in Cleveland; 2,770,265 net tons of iron ore were received at Cleveland docks in the season of 1897; 6766 vessels were entered and cleared at the port of Cleveland in the same season. Between 1880 and 1897 the tonnage entered and cleared here increased 169 per cent. Over $3,500,000 are invested in charitable institutions, including Cleveland Protestant Orphan Asylum, City Infirmary, Huron St. and other hospitals and several special aid societies. Cleveland's institutions for higher education comprise: Cleveland University, Adelbert College, Western Reserve Medical College, University School, Normal Training School and many others. Nature and art have combined to make Cleveland a beautiful city. Wade, South Side, Lake View and Gordon Parks embrace a wide extent of woodland, lake and meadow and bespeak the highest skill of the landscape artist. Euclid avenue is one of the finest streets in world. The Garfield Memorial is justly famous for its imposing beauty; handsome monuments and statues commemorate Commodore Perry, Moses Cleveland, Henry Chisholm and others. Among the city's beautiful buildings are the Perry Paine, New Telephone, Post Office, Western Reserve, Hickox, Society for Savings, Y. M. C. A., New England, Cuyahoga, and Guarfield buildings, New Jewish Temple, Epworth Memorial Church and Cleveland Grays' Armory. Val. $141,915,430. Express; Telegraph. Commercial Nat. Bank. Publisher's Statement.—To reach the largest number of people in Dayton, a city of 100,000 inhabitants and in the Miami valley, a district containing more than 250,000 people, the Dayton Daily News is the paper to use. A fair trial of this paper insures a continuance of patronage. Circulation larger than that of all other Dayton papers combined. Advertising contracts made subject to this guarantee. The News is recognized as the only metropolitan paper in Dayton, with exclusive special features, and is the only afternoon paper in Dayton receiving the full report of the Associated Press. Information as to advertising of H. D. LaCoste, 38 Park Row, New York.

Publisher's Statement.—Taken separately or collectively, the Daily and Weekly Democrats afford one of the best mediums for advertising to be found in Ohio. Lancaster, as located in the best Natural Gas belt of the Country, surrounded by a rich farming community, presents an unsurpassed opportunity to reach a class who have money and are not afraid to spend it. The Record, as all journals, goes into the homes of those who read and preserve; its circulation reaching out all over the country. Try them; the results will not disappoint. Also publish the Pythian Record, see Secret Society publications.

Publisher's Statement.—The Democrat has for 42 years been under the editorial management of the present editor. It is the only newspaper in Madison county which regularly publishes an itemized statement of its circulation. The publishers claim, on good grounds, that the bona fide circulation of the Democrat is greater than that of all other London papers combined. Sixteen pages (cut and pasted) each issue of live town and county news make the Democrat sought after by every citizen of the county. To reach all the readers of Madison county, advertisers must use the Democrat. Drop us a postal for a sample copy.

Publisher's Statement.—While there are a great many good things springing up round about us, they do not all prove valuable acquisitions, either in life or business. This demonstration is vividly portrayed in Newspaperdom, as there are papers of all classes launched on the journalistic sea every day. The papers that the advertisers wish to sail in are the tried and true, those that have stemmed the tide of adversity and sailed through the placid waters of prosperity like the Daily and Weekly Mirror, those that have been the color bearers for Democracy for fifty years. To advertise in the Mirror is to visit the houses of the best people in Marion and Marion county.

Publisher's Statement.—On the basis of the fact that "it is not how loud you talk, but how many people hear you," business advertisers are invited to invest in space in the Marion, Ohio, Daily Star and the Weekly Star. The Daily is 22 years of age, the weekly 14 years old, both well established. The weekly is undoubtedly the best in the field. The daily is the one medium to use, for three-fourths of Marion's people read and pay for it.

Publisher's Statement.—The Portsmouth, Ohio Tribune is the oldest Tribune in America. It was established in 1836 as the Scioto Tribune, when it succeeded papers which had been running since 1822. The circulation is both large and permanent. It reaches the best class of people in a large section of Ohio and Kentucky, in which Portsmouth, a city of 22000, is the metropolis. The Tribune accepts a limited number of foreign advertising contracts of an entirely unobjectionable nature.

Publisher's Statement.—You can talk to more homes, reaching the best class of people in Toledo, through the Commercial, than any other paper in the city. Local advertisers use more space with us than any other daily. The woman's page every day in the year, complete local and general news and market reports are special strong features.

Publisher's Statement.—A common mistake of advertisers is in thinking they reach the German people through the English papers, as but few of them comparitively, take both. They like to read the German paper and get the news as well as the benefit of the culture and training of this language which to them is very dear. The Express gives them all the news, and advertisers get larger returns for the cost than in English papers.

Publisher's Statement.—The Wooster Weekly Republican was established in 1816 and is the only Republican paper published in Wooster, O. In 1898 its weekly average circulation was 1960, covering the Wayne county field (one of the richest counties in Ohio) in a very thorough manner. It contains more home news than any other paper published in the county. The Wooster Daily Republican established in 1887 has a circulation of over 1000 and is the only paper covering the solid city of Wooster with its great University. Advertising estimates made promptly at as low rates as are consistent with good service.

Publisher's Statement.—A very large percentage of the number of copies issued of the Daily, Sunday and Weekly Vindicator, go directly into the homes of the city and northeastern Ohio. It is the most complete newspaper in its section. In every city one paper is the best—in Youngstown it's the Vindicator that occupies first place. The reason for its supremacy is found in the fact that it is a very strong local paper, and has always been at the head of movements for the advancement of the best interests of its city. The progress of Youngstown and the success of the Vindicator make the field one that advertisers will find profitable to cultivate. We quote prices for space and furnish copies of the papers upon application. H. D. LaCoste, Eastern Manager, 38 Park Row, New York City.

Courier—Thursday; Rep; Est. '10; 8p 17×24; Sub. $1. Courier Co. Circ.....‡5040

Publisher's Statement.—The Daily and Weekly Courier are the leading newspapers in Zanesville and southeastern Ohio. Both papers are the leaders in their respective fields, and this means in circulation, standing and influence. The leading advertisers use the Courier. Advertising rates are lower than they ought to be, and lower than they will be a few months hence. Business, never very dull, is exceedingly active now and this will be the best year the Muskingum Valley has enjoyed for a decade. At least, that is the prospect now. Zanesville is using natural gas. Write the Courier for rates. Circulation guaranteed.

OREGON.

Capital, Salem. Settled at Astoria by New Yorkers in 1811. Population, 313,767. Area, 96030 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 4,428,712. Value of farm land, $56,908,575. Annual value of farm products, $13,234,548. No state debt. Vote in 1896: Rep. 48779; Fus. 46662; G. Dem. 977; Pro. 919.

Oregon is bounded on the north by the Columbia river and Washington; on the east by the Snake river and Idaho; on the south by Nevada and California and on the west by the Pacific ocean. This state is twice as large as England. The Cascade mountains, crossing the state from north to south, have an average elevation of 8000 feet, and many lofty peaks, of which the most important are: Mt. Hood, 11225 feet; Mt. Jefferson, 10200 feet; Three Sisters, Drummond Peak and Mts. Scott and Pitt. The third of the state west of the mountains is the most valuable portion. Here is the famous Willamette Valley with its hop fields, fruit orchards and dairy farms. In the northeastern portion is the great wheat region of Oregon. The great Columbia river, navigable for 1200 miles, flows along the northern border and with its tributaries, the Willamette and Snake rivers, drains all but the southern border. The principal lakes are: Crater, Upper and Lower Klamath and Wallowa lakes, the latter 6000 feet above sea level. Oregon ranks second in the Pacific coast fisheries and first in the salmon fisheries. Over 600,000 cases of salmon have been canned in a single season. The state has over $2,000,000 invested in the fisheries and the annual catch is worth over $1,000,000. In the production of cereals the state ranks second on the Pacific coast. The annual production of wheat is 13,149,000 bushels; oats, 6,000,000 bushels; hops, 3,811,349 pounds; hay, 600,000 tons; apples, 2,500,000 bushels and wool, 7,500,000 pounds. Oregon has 700,000 cattle, valued at $13,079,341 and 2,600,000 sheep, worth $5,491,789. There are 25000 square miles of forests on the mountain sides, where are cut the great Oregon pines to feed the saw mills at Portland, Astoria and along the lower Columbia. Oregon annually produces 50000 tons of coal, over $1,000,000 in gold and $130,000 in silver. The leading beach resorts of the state are Newport, Yaquina, Clatsop Beach and Tillamook Head; while popular inland resorts are Linkville Hot Springs and the Hot Lake at Union. Newspapers are published in all of Oregon's 32 counties. The leading cities are: Portland, East Portland, Salem, Astoria, Albina, Eugene, The Dalles, Albany, Oregon City and Baker City.

In making up lists for use in the State of Oregon, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

LA GRANDE, ADVOCATE.....210

NO business man can afford the time to thoroughly master the art in advertising. It is "time elaborately thrown away." He might be more profitably employed. Every man to his specialty. When an advertiser does his own advertising, it is "speculation;" when he does it through an experienced agent, it is "investment." Select your agent carefully. You engage a lawyer who has made a reputation; a doctor who has wrought cures for a generation; a bank which has weathered financial storms. We have helped two generations to save money and make it, by showing how, when and where advertising should be done to produce the best results with the least expenditure. Pettingill & Co.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Capital, Harrisburg. Settled at Tinicum by Swedes in 1643. Population, 5,258,014. Area, 45215 sq. miles. Acres of farm land 20,060,455; value of farm land, $975,689,410; annual value of farm products, $129,760,476. State debt, $1,788,026. Vote in 1896: Rep. 778,300; Dem. 422,054; Pro. 19274; Pop. 11174; G. Dem. 11000; Social Labor, 1683; Nat. 870.

Pennsylvania is bounded on the north by Lake Erie and New York; on the east by the Delaware river, which separates it from New York and New Jersey; on the south by Delaware, Maryland and West Virginia and on the west by West Virginia and Ohio. This state comprises three well defined regions, the southeastern plain, the Middle Hills and the Western Highlands. All the eastern and northern portions of the state are drained by the Delaware and Susquehanna rivers and their tributaries; while west of the Alleghenies rise the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers, the confluents of the mighty Ohio. Cresson, Crystal Cave, the Caverns of Kishacoquilla Valley, Arch Spring and Cave, Great Bear Cave, Pack Saddle Narrows of the Conewaugh and Pulpit Rocks are among the finest bits of scenery in the Highlands. Farming employs 300,000 people on 200,000 farms, valued at $1,200,000,000, with an annual product valued at $200,000,000. The principal farm products are corn, 46,527,000 bushels a year; wheat, 20,864,000 bushels; oats, 33,704,000 bushels; and tobacco, 28,956,247 pounds. Pennsylvania ranks first in the production of rye, with 5,000,000 bushels a year; second in buckwheat, with 4,000,000 bushels; third in potatoes, with 16,000,000 bushels and fourth in hay, with 3,000,000 tons. There are 1,800,000 cattle, worth $41,974,338; 1,800,000 sheep, worth $4,178,173; 1,000,000 swine, worth $8,792,072; and 500,000 horses, worth $51,867,709. The state has 311 nurseries, with $4,210,805 invested capital; 18 seed farms and 544 florist establishments, worth $5,641,513. Manufactures are carried on in 31332 establishments with 387,072 operatives, receiving $134,055,904 yearly and from $465,020,563 worth of material, turning out yearly a product valued at $744,813,445. Pennsylvania leads the Union in iron and steel industries. "Three-fourths of the mechanics and miners are Americans. The capital invested is $474,510,993. Half of the glass works of the United States are at Pittsburg, where 60 factories employ 4000 men and produce yearly $5,000,000 worth of flint, lime, window and green glass. Of the $80,000,000 worth of carpets and upholstery goods made in the United States, a large proportion comes from Philadelphia, which has the largest rug mills in the world. In a single ward of the city more carpets are made than in all Great Britain. Leather is prepared by 333 tanneries, to the value of $24,000,000. The lumber business centres largely at Williamsport." Among the middle Atlantic states, Pennsylvania takes first rank in cotton manufactures, having 158 factories, with $15,884,936 capital and an annual product worth $18,431,773; as well as in woolen manufactures having 753 mills, with $35,920,758 capital and an annual product worth $89,533,725. Pennsylvania takes leading rank in mineral wealth. There are 887 regular and about 3000 local coal mines, with an annual output of anthracite, 45,544,970 tons, nearly all the anthracite coal mined in America, valued at $65,721,578; bituminous, 36,174,089 tons, worth $27,953,314. The state ranks third in the production of iron ore, with an annual output of 10,000,000 tons, worth $3,063,534. Pennsylvania produces a large share of the petroleum used in America, 3,000,000 barrels a year, and leads in the production of nickel. Pennsylvania has 67 counties and newspapers are published in all. The leading cities are: Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Allegheny, Scranton, Reading, Erie, Harrisburg, Wilkesbarre, Lancaster and Altoona.

In making up lists for use in the State of Pennsylvania, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

Courier—Evening; Rep; Est. '94; 4p 18×22; Sub. $3. Courier Pub. Co. Circ.....④1450

Publisher's Statement.—The Blairsville Daily Courier is published in a wide-awake manufacturing town, having a population of 6000, and is the only daily issued in its home county, which has a population of 50000. All the leading advertisers of the country use it, and no other medium covers its field more thoroughly than does the Courier, the one in which it circulates. The Courier is one of the most widely quoted of the country papers, and its circulation is rapidly extending in directions aside from the local field. General advertisers will find it a valuable medium.

Democrat—Thursday; Dem; Est. '67; 4p 20×28; Sub. $1. H. Frysinger. Circ.....4 2200

Publisher's Statement.—The Democrat is the only Democratic newspaper published in the county, and is read by more than 8000 people weekly. It goes to 84 post offices within the county. Also, to nearly all the barber shops and club rooms. As an advertising medium it is better than a daily of the same circulation, because dailies are read hastily, for the current happenings; weeklies are read at leisure. Delaware county abounds with manufacturing plants and suburban homes of Philadelphia business men.

News—Evening; Rep; Est. '74; 8p 22×44; Sub. $3. Chester News Co. Circ.....4 4800

Publisher's Statement.—Reaches the purchasing class and brings results to its patrons. An up-to-date paper. Advertisers wishing to cover this section cannot afford to omit it from their lists. Circulation is guaranteed and advertisers are assured of highly satisfactory results if they use our columns to call attention to their goods.

Publisher's Statement.—No newspaper reaches the homes and purchasing people of Meadville so well as the Morning Star. The delivery is by office carriers mostly, and there is no "waste circulation." The Star has always supervised the character of its advertising and nothing objectionable is allowed in its columns. The Gazette is an excellent weekly, with more news and better print than any other Crawford county weekly, steadily gaining in circulation and influence. It makes a specialty of county news and is preeminently the family paper of the county.

Publisher's Statement.—The best medium with which to reach the most substantial class of people in Snyder county and Central Pennsylvania is the Middleburg Post. No paper, wherever published, has as large a circulation in that section of territory as the Post. It emanates from the county seat, is in the center of the county and is the only paper in that section of the state whose editorials are written by a college graduate editor. The people in that section are progressive and any advertising space used in the Post will bring forth good fruit. The rates are always proportionate to the circulation and contracts are made at all times of the year at very reasonable rates.

Times—Saturday; Ind-Dem; Est. '85; 8p 15×22; Sub. $1. G. W. Foote. Circ.....1200

Publisher's Statement.—The Times has a large and constantly increasing circulation in a live agricultural section. Mifflinburg does not "boom" in the western acceptation of that term, but is growing steadily—her manufacturers pay more money for labor each year. New industries are started each year and the workers are intelligent and 90 per cent of them read The Times. An advertisement in the paper is sure to bring business to the dealer who bids for the trade of its readers. Rates are low when the class of its readers are taken into consideration. Write for sample and rate card.

Publisher's Statement.—The Independent Republican, for 50 years the leading paper of Susquehanna and adjoining counties. Circulates among an intelligent and thrifty agricultural community. Best results always assured for money invested with us. That a large number of advertisers of a high class have advertised in this paper continuously for many years is one of the best recommendations of its worth. Look the paper over—consider the geographical situation and the intelligence and wealth of its readers. It is the paper if the best weekly paper in northeastern Pennsylvania is what you are after. It costs money to shake this Plum tree, but the fruit secured will always be satisfactory.

PHILADELPHIA, 1,046,964, identical with Philadelphia county; 90m SW of Greater New York, 96m NE of Baltimore on Pennsylvania, Philadelphia & Reading, Baltimore & Ohio, Philadelphia, Wilmington & Baltimore, Philadelphia & Atlantic City and West Jersey & Sea Shore Rys. The general offices of all the railroads named, excepting the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, are located in Philadelphia. The city is located at junction of the Delaware and Schuylkill rivers and has over 40 miles of water front, with ten miles of wharves. Lines of ocean steamships are established to a number of European, South and Central American ports and a heavy coastwise ocean trade is carried on between Philadelphia and Atlantic and Gulf Ports. Philadelphia has a greater mileage and larger system of electric railways than any other city in the world, or over 500 miles. Trolley lines connect with all surrounding towns, suburban roads running out through all the adjoining counties. Lines are in operation as far as Wilmington, Del., a distance of 30 miles. Philadelphia has over 20000 manufacturing estabments, with over $450,000,000 capital invested and employing over 300,000 hands. The monthly pay roll aggregates $2,330,000 and the annual value of products $650,000,000. The principal manufacturing industries and their outputs are sugar, $50,000,000; woolen and worsted goods, $42,000,000; machinery, etc., $33,000,000; clothing, $26,000,000; carpets, $25,000,000; hosiery and knit goods, $17,000,000; morocco, $12,000,000; petroleum and silk goods, each $10,000,000. Philadelphia is an important centre of foreign and domestic trade. Its manufactured products go all over the country and its wholesale houses have an immense field of territory in the south and west. The imports of Philadelphia from foreign countries during a single year have amounted to $44,000,000; the exports $55,000,000. Among the principal exports were petroleum, 256,885,000 barrels; corn, 26,000,000 bushels; wheat, 5,801,000 bushels; manufactured products made in the city were shipped to all parts of the world. Philadelphia has the largest American retail store—in acres and trade. There are nearly eighteen acres in this store alone and six acres of warehouses besides. Philadelphia is the seat of the University of Pennsylvia, the third largest institution of learning in the country, in addition to many other colleges and schools of higher education. A great centre for schools of medicine, dentistry and law in the United States, medical students especially, coming from all parts of the world to attend its half-dozen or more medical colleges. The City Hall is the largest municipal building in the world and the finest and most costly public building in the country. It has been under construction over 20 years and has cost over $20,000,000. Independence Hall, the "Cradle of Liberty" in which the Continental Congress met and the Declaration was signed; Carpenter's Hall, the first meeting place of the Continental Congress and many other historical and notable buildings are in the city. Among the triumphs in modern steel truss construction, the largest and most imposing structures are: The American Baptist Publication Society, Girard, Betz, Union, Trust, Morrison, Witherspoon, Franklin, Drexel, Stephen Girard, Manhattan Life, Fidelity Mutual Life and Title & Trust Company buildings; the Bourse, Masonic and I. O. O. F. Temples and Pennsylvania and Reading Stations. Philadelphia is the ship building centre of America with Cramp's and a dozen other large ship building firms, Baldwin's Locomotive Works and several immense sugar refineries are located in the city. There are 20 large hospitals and sanitariums, a free municipal library system, Girard College for Orphan Boys, the Bourse and the Commercial Museums, the largest in the world. The total value of the city's school property exceeds $10,000,000. There are 120 benevolent, charitable and humane institutions. There are forty-seven hospitals in Philadelphia, which treat annually 40000 ward cases and 250,000 dispensary cases. There are 100 libraries in Philadelphia, most of which are open to the public without charge, in which there are about 1,250,000 books. There are over 2000 students of medicine enrolled in the colleges of Philadelphia. Among the city's property is Fairmont Park, of 3000 acres, the finest and largest natural park in any city of the world, in addition to which there are 35 small parks and squares in different parts of the city. The Centennial Exhibition of 1876 was held in buildings in Fairmont Park, some of which are still standing. No city in America possesses such wealth of historic interest as Philadelphia. She made the first American Flag at 239 Arch street; struck the first American coin at 29 North Seventh street; had the first organized volunteer fire company; the first law school; made the first American piano and the first type foundry in America still flourishes here. Franklin gave America its first public library here; carried on his electrical experiments and put the first lightning rod on his house at the southeast corner of Second and Race Sts. The first American paper mill was on Wissahickon creek. Philadelphia had the first American bank—and the Bank of England was built on the experience of an American institution. Philadelphia sent the first American Arctic expedition. Philadelphia is the city of homes, having 240,000 houses, a majority of which are owned by their occupants. The assessed valuation of taxable property in the city at one-third actual value is $842,330,700 and in addition to this the city owns property appraised at $60,000,000. The total is swelled by non-taxable property, such as churches, appraised at about $100,000,000. Express; Telegraph. Farmers' & Mechanics' Nat. Bank. Continental Hotel.

PITTSBURG*, 305,000; Allegheny, 551,959; 354m W of Philadelphia on Baltimore & Ohio, Pennsylvania and Pittsburg & Castle Shannon Rys.; junction of Pennsylvania and Allegheny Valley Rys. and of Pittsburg & Lake Erie and Pittsburg, Chartiers & Youghiogheny Rys. Trolley to Allegheny and surrounding towns. On November 23, 1753, George Washington arrived, under orders from Gov. Dinwiddie of Virginia, to establish a fort at the junction of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers. (Washington wrote in his diary on first viewing the territory embraced in The Forks, "This would be a good place for a mill." He did not say what kind of a mill; it was not necessary, for today, Pittsburg and its river front for over 20 miles are literally crowded with mills of every description.) The Allegheny, Monongahela and Ohio rivers form a waterway for enormous freight and passenger traffic, extending 100 miles north by the Allegheny, 100 miles south into West Virginia by the Monongahela and by way of the Ohio river south to the Gulf of Mexico, west to the foot of the Rocky mountains and north to the Canadian border. No better idea of the enormous traffic of Pittsburg can be had than a statement of the ascertained tonnage for a single year: Traffic by railways, 36,679,415 tons; traffic, harbor on rivers, 7,318,366 tons; total, 43,997,718 tons. Pittsburg is the heart of the greatest iron and steel producing interests in the world. The population of Pittsburg, making it a centre for a radius of sixty miles, according to the census of 1890, was 1,608,964, being the largest of any district of corresponding extent in the United States west of the Atlantic coast. The annual traffic between the lakes and Pittsburg district is estimated at 18,000,000 tons. The total ascertained tonnage of the city by water and rail is 44,000,000 tons. The output of crude iron in Pittsburg alone is 24 per cent of the total production in the United States. In Bessemer steel ingots and castings over 43 per cent and over 55 per cent of the total production of crucible steel. Pittsburg has produced in a single year almost as much pig iron as did the states of Ohio and Illinois and more rolled iron and steel in the same year than Ohio, Illinois and Indiana combined. The thirty blast furnaces and 64 rolling mills produced in 1897, 2,982,664 tons pig iron. Of crucible and open hearth and all kinds of steel, 2,724,688 tons. Of iron and steel rails, bar, angle, bolt, rod, hoop and sheet plate, 2,063,824 tons, or a total of 7,771,176 tons. Allegheny county produced in 1896 about 55 per cent of production of wire nails in Pennsylvania and over 12 per cent of the total production of the United States. The several plants of one great corporation capitalized at $25,000,000, produced in one month 185,000 tons of pig iron, spiegel and ferro, from its several blast furnace plants requiring a consumption of 175,000 tons of coke and 300,000 tons of ore. In addition to this there was made and shipped a finished product of 200,000 tons of steel, consisting of open hearth and Bessemer rails, blooms, billets, slabs and plates for boilers, bridges and various structural shapes. They make 50000 to 55000 tons of steel rails per month, or enough each day to lay 25 miles of railroad. A large part of this firm's business during the year just ended has been for exports to Japan, South America, Australia and various countries of Continental Europe. In addition to the armor for our own navy, they have supplied large quantities for the Russian and Japanese navies. Pittsburg is the leading plate glass centre of the world, having a total of 612 pots in operation and course of construction. Their combined capacity is equal to 24,500,000 square feet; of this amount, however, 3,500,000 square feet are thin plate. This represents three-fourths of the entire product of the United States. The glass interests have a capital of $12,000,000; employ 5000 hands, with an annual wage of $3,000,000 and an annual product (in and outbound) of 300,000 tons. Pittsburg district has 757 pots in operation out of a total of 1850 pots for the entire country. The production from 757 pots, (the output of each pot being 3400 boxes of 50 feet to each box) is 2,573,800 boxes. Pittsburg yields 40 per cent of the entire production of the United States. Pittsburg produces flint and lime glassware in the highest forms of ornamental and tableware. Capacity 63000 tons per annum. Pittsburg has the largest pickling and preserving works in the world. It employs, according to the season, 1200 to 2400 hands, has an invested capital of $1,500,000, annual sales of $2,400,000 and annually paying wages of $675,000. In addition to the business proper, the firm own and operates glass works to supply the exclusive wants of the pickle establishment. The product finds its market throughout the world. The city has 36 national banks, with $13,500,000 capital, 33 state banks and trust companies, with over $7,000,000 and clearing houses with a total annual of $819,037,017.03. Altogether Pittsburg has 1420 manufactories, with $108,368,838 capital, employing 56438 people, with monthly pay roll of $2,824,846 and an annual product valued at $126,859,657. Publisher's Statement.—The Pittsburg Bulletin is the only exclusively literary and social illustrated weekly in the second city of Pennsylvania. It is a very handsome specimen of typographic and pictorial art, and money is liberally spent in keeping it up to a high standard. Its circulation is almost entirely local, but it reaches completely in the city of Pittsburg the people who have money to spend and who spend money. Every advertiser in Pittsburg who seeks to reach people of this class is represented in the columns of The Bulletin. The paper prints no patent medicine advertisements.

Publisher's Statement.—The Scranton Tribune is generally admitted to be, far and away, the best advertising proposition in northeastern Pennsylvania. Many of the large Scranton advertisers use more space in its columns than any of the other Scranton newspapers. The reason is evident. Advertisers contemplating entering the northeastern Pennsylvania territory are respectfully requested to make exhaustive inquiries among Scranton advertisers. The Tribune is published daily except Sunday, is a morning newspaper, and consists of either 8, 10, 12 or 16 pages. Published by the Tribune Publishing Co. New York office at 150 Nassau Street, S. S. Vreeland, Representative.

Publisher's Statement.—The Scranton Truth is essentially a family newspaper. Its system of circulation is the most perfect in Pennsylvania. It is delivered at the homes of subscribers for 10 cents a week, and is sold on the streets for two cents a copy. It is the only afternoon newspaper in Scranton that receives the Associated Press service, and it takes the full day report by special wire leading direct into its newsroom. A paper so widely read as the Scranton Truth is, is the paper to advertise in.

Publisher's Statement.—Steelton is only three miles from Harrisburg, the capital of the state. The Pennsylvania steel works, one of the largest steel plants in the United States, is located here, giving employment to 5000 workingmen and paying out annually in wages $2,000,000. Steelton has a population of 10000, and having only one other newspaper it must be evident to all that the Advocate naturally has a very large circulation, thus making it an excellent advertising medium. The Advocate is read very extensively by the workingmen, who read advertisements closely and buy where the best bargains are offered.

RHODE ISLAND.

Capitals, Providence and Newport. Settled at Providence by Englishmen in 1636. Population, 345,506. Area, 1250 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 514,813; value of farm land, $25,882,079; annual value of farm products, $3,670,135. No state debt. Vote in 1896: Rep. 36437; Dem. 14459; G. Dem. 1166; Pro. 1160; Social labor, 558.

Rhode Island bounded on the north and east by Massachusetts; on the south by the Atlantic ocean and on the west by Connecticut, is the smallest and one of the busiest states of the Union. Narragansett bay, one of the most beautiful sheets of water in the world, occupies a large area in the southeastern part of the state and its shores and islands attract thousands of summer visitors every year. Newport on Rhode Island is the most noted watering place in the state and a summer city of international fame, with its granite and marble palaces, the summer homes of the wealthiest families in America. The fisheries of the state employ 1500 people, nearly 100 vessels and the yearly catch includes 600,000 pounds of fish, half a million pounds of lobsters, over 300,000 bushels of oysters and vast quantities of clams and other shell fish. About 1000 tons of coal have been taken out of the mines. At Westerly a very fine quality of granite, in a number of colors, is quarried. Limestone, sandstone, marble and brick clay are also among the state's minerals. The southeastern part of the state is very fertile and a considerable portion of the whole state is under cultivation. Rhode Island's manufactures, her chief source of wealth, embrace 2200 establishments, employing 65000 people, whose annual production amounts to $100,000,000 a year. Chief among the manufactured products are cottons, woolens, calicoes, worsteds, rubber goods, Corliss engines and safes, iron and steel goods, horse shoes, silverware, jewelry, torpedo boats, launches and yachts. There are five counties, in all of which newspapers are published. The principal cities are: Providence, Pawtucket, Woonsocket, Lincoln, Newport, Warwick, Johnston, East Providence, Cranston, Cumberland and Westerly.

In making up lists for use in the State of Rhode Island, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING is an art of which no one knows all. We do not claim to know everything about such a difficult problem, yet the fifty years' record of our house and the experience of expending millions of dollars in newspaper advertising should rank us among those who know something that would be of inestimable value to those who lack experience and knowledge which only time and large transactions can develop. Handling as we do at the present time the newspaper business of many of the largest and most successful advertisers in America, we can consistently claim to possess superior advantages for successfully placing newspaper advertising of every description. We should be pleased to consult with anyone on the subject. Pettingill & Co., the oldest advertising agency.

Publisher's Statement.—The Providence News is the only penny paper in its field. Its clean and reliable character makes it a favorite with the city's best people regardless of price, while the price contributes to make it popular with the masses. It is particularly strong in local news, to which it devotes much of its space and caters very largely to the home circle and the church interests which are controlling influences in its field. The greater part of its every evening issue goes by carrier direct to subscribers at their homes. It publishes a 12 page Saturday evening special, instead of a Sunday issue, which has proved an especially popular enterprise.

Capital, Columbia. Settled at Beaufort by Englishmen in 1663. Population, 1,151,149. Area, 30570 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 13,535,237; value of farm land, $68,677,482; annual value of farm products, $41,669,749. State debt, $6,473,476.38. Vote in 1896: Dem. 58798; Rep. 9281; G. Dem. 828.

South Carolina is bounded on the north by North Carolina; on the east by North Carolina; on the southeast by the Atlantic ocean; on southwest by the Savannah river and on the west by the Chattanooga river which separates it from Georgia. From the coast northwesterly to the mountains the surface rises in successive terraces from 20 to 30 miles wide, known as the Lowlands, Middle Country, Pine Barrens and the Alpine Region. The state is drained by the Savannah, Congaree, Santee, Wateree, Saluda, Broad, Catawba, Great Pee Dee, Ashley and Cooper rivers. Agriculture is the leading industry and the state's farms produce 32,366,400 pounds of the best rice in the world, 18,650,000 bushels of corn and 640,000 bales of cotton annually. There are $20,000,000 worth of live stock in South Carolina. The state has 3242 manufacturing establishments, with an annual product of $29,951,550, including lumber and shingles to the value of $4,500,000 and tar and turpentine worth $3,000,000. About 100 miners turn out $100,000 in gold every year. The annual production of phosphate rock is over 600,000 tons. The fisheries employ 1000 men. The state ranks first in the shrimp fisheries with an annual catch of 18000 bushels. South Carolina has 40 counties and newspapers are published in all. The leading cities and towns are: Charleston, Columbia, Greenville, Spartanburg, Sumter, Beaufort, Camden, Florence, Newberry and Anderson.

In making up lists for use in the State of South Carolina, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

Capital, Pierre. Settled at Sioux Falls by Iowans in 1857. Population, 328,808. Area, 77650 sq. miles. Vote in 1896: Dem. 41225; Rep. 41042; Pro. 683.

South Dakota is bounded on the north by North Dakota; on the east by Minnesota and Iowa; on the south by the Missouri river and Nebraska and on the west by Montana and Wyoming. South Dakota is a vast plain, larger than New England, diversified by the Black Hills in the west and many beautiful lakes in the east. The state is drained by the Missouri and its tributaries, the James, White, Bad, Cheyenne, Owl and Grand rivers. Agriculture is the leading industry, with 50000 farms, annually producing 21,018,000 bushels of corn; 29,714,000 bushels of wheat; 2,000,000 bushels potatoes and 1,500,000 tons prairie hay. The state has 386,000 swine, 527,000 cattle, 200,000 horses, and 158,000 sheep producing 5,000,000 pounds of wool a year. South Dakota produces $3,000,000 in gold, $135,000 in silver and 30000 pounds of Portland cement every year. "The Pine Ridge, Yankton, Rosebud, Cheyenne-River, Crow-Creek and Sisseton reservations contain 18500 Sioux Indians and 500 Northern Cheyennes, under the care of their chiefs, United States agents, native police and Catholic and Episcopal clergy. These denizens of the plains are yielding slowly to civilization. An Indian Industrial school has been established at the capital city, Pierre, in which Indian children are taught the useful mechanical arts. This school is maintained by the general government, and several commodious brick structures have already been built, some of which will be provided with machinery and other useful appliances." Newspapers are published in 54 of the 78 counties of the state. The leading cities and towns are: Sioux Falls, Yankton, Pierre, Aberdeen, Huron, Watertown, Lead City and Deadwood.

In making up lists for use in the State of South Dakota, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

DEADWOOD, INDEPENDENT.....194
SIOUX FALLS, ARGUS-LEADER.....194

WHEN you find advertisements fail to bring custom, what do you do? Stop advertising? Yes? Is this wise? Your judgment led you in the first place to advertise. We know, and you know, that advertising is always profitable if rightly conducted. You have devoted yourself to the management of your business for years. Meanwhile we have been making a close study of advertising—nothing else—and in that department can be of service to you. If your advertising has not paid, we probably can discover the cause—there must be a cause—and can suggest the remedy. We give you disinterested advice—free—and save you money, time and worry. We have at our command a thoroughly efficient staff of experienced and resourceful artists and writers—at your service at a moment's notice. Pettingill & Co.

TEXAS.

Capital, Austin. Settled at San Antonio by Spaniards in 1690. Population, 2,235,523. Area, 265,780 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 36,303,454; value of farm land, $170,468,886; annual value of farm products, $64,204,329. No state debt. Vote in 1896: Dem. 290,862; Rep. 167,520; Pop. 79572; G. Dem. 5046; Pro. 1786.

Texas is bounded on the north by New Mexico, Oklahoma and Red River, which separates it from Oklahoma, Indian Territory and Arkansas; on the east by Arkansas, Louisiana and the Sabine river, which separates it from southern Louisiana; on the southeast by the Gulf of Mexico; on the southwest by the Rio Grande river, which separates it from Mexico and on the west by New Mexico. The "Lone Star" state is four times as large as all New England, an empire in itself. Drainage and transportion facilities are afforded by the Sabine, Neches, Trinity, Colorado, Brazos, Nueces and Rio Grande rivers. The state is naturally divided into eastern Texas, 45000 square miles of pine, oak and hickory forests, large areas devoted to sugar, tobacco and tropical fruits and great stock farms; northern Texas, 25000 square miles of wheat and cotton fields; central Texas including the Cross Timbers, upper and lower, a forest region between the Red and Brazos rivers; western Texas, 50000 square miles, largely devoted to grazing and stock raising purposes; and the Pan Handle, including the famous Stabed Plains. Portions of the Pan Handle are being converted into fertile farms. More than two-thirds of the people of Texas are engaged in agriculture. Cotton is the leading crop and this state leads the Union with 1,200,000 bales a year, valued at $50,000,000 and 600,000 tons of cottonseed. Other products are: Wheat, 5,000,000 bushels a year; corn, 27,000,000 bushels; oats, 18,000,000 bushels; prairie hay, 226,000 tons; and other hay, 94000 tons; millet, 118,000 tons; sugar cane, 200,000 tons. The sugar plantations annually produce 12,000,000 pounds of sugar and 1,200,000 gallons of syrup, valued at $1,500,000 and sorghum and molasses worth over $1,000,000 a year. With 5,000,000 sheep, Texas leads the Union in the raising of wool, producing nearly 25,000,000 pounds a year, worth $7,000,000. Southern and western Texas annually produce 9,000,000 pounds of pecan nuts. This state also leads in the live stock industry, having 4,000,000 cattle, 2,000,000 swine and 1,000,000 horses and mules. Two corporations in this state export 150,000,000 feet of lumber annually. Texas has 3000 factories, with $24,000,000 capital, employing 20000 people, with an annual product valued at $40,000,000. Texas has many famous health resorts, such as Sour Lake, east of Houston; Piedmont Springs, near Navasota; Sour Springs, near Luling; Sutherland Springs in Wilson county; Lampasas Springs, 60 miles north of Austin; Wooter Mineral Springs, near Bremond and Georgetown Springs. Newspapers are published in 197 of the 246 counties of Texas. The leading cities are: Dallas, San Antonio, Galveston, Houston, Fort Worth, Austin, Waco, Laredo, Denison, El Paso and Paris.

In making up lists for use in the State of Texas, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

Pettingill & Co. place more business with the newspapers of New England than any other firm; have closer personal relations with them; are better acquainted with the relative value of them; and last, but not least, can quote the most favorable rates. Ability in writing—originality in designing—perspicacity in selecting papers—and careful attention to the details are some of the advantages offered.

OKLAHOMA.

Capital, Guthrie. Settled at Guthrie by Americans in 1889. Population, 133,100. Area, 39030 sq. miles. Vote in 1896: Dem-Pop. 27435; Rep. 26267.

Oklahoma is bounded on the north by Colorado and Kansas; on the east by Indian Territory; on the south by Texas and Red river and on the west by New Mexico. This territory was purchased from the Creek Indians by the U. S. government in 1889 and its settlement by the "Oklahoma boomers" and the making of a city of 10000 inhabitants in a day is a familiar story. Since then its growth has been so rapid that the territory aspires to statehood. "The original Oklahoma district, west of the Creek Nation, contains the chief towns in the territory: Guthrie, Kingfisher, Oklahoma City, Norman and others and large acres of farming land. The greater part of Oklahoma is still occupied by wild tribes of Indians, who rove up and down over lands set apart for them in 1867-8, but not patented to them. They receive regular supplies of money, clothing and provisions from the government and are ruled by agents appointed by the president, strengthened by considerable garrisons of regular troops near the agencies. The wild tribes are hardly touched by civilization (except in its vices) and still assemble for their cruel sun-dance and pagan festivals, practice polygamy and girl-selling, and look with haughty scorn upon their comfortable, peaceable and well-to-do brethern of Five Nations." The principal tribes represented are the Sacs and Foxes, Omahas, Nebraskas, Kickapoos, Shawnees, Cheyennes, Arapahoes, Kiowas, Comanches, Apaches, Wichitas, Delawares, Caddoes, Towaconies, Wacoes, Keechies, Osages, Kansas, Pawnees, Otoes and Missourias. Oklahoma has over 1,000,000 acres of farms, valued at nearly $5,000,000. The soil is well adapted to the production of cereals, cotton, flax, sorghum, broomcorn and potatoes. No man's Land, 3,700,000 acres, lying west of 100 degrees, was organized as the Territory of Cimmaron by its inhabitants in 1886, but Congress failed to recognize it and in 1889 it became a part of Oklahoma. Oklahoma has 23 counties and newspapers are published in all. The leading towns are: Guthrie, Oklahoma, Kingfisher and Norman.

INDIAN TERRITORY.

Capital, Tahlequah. Settled at Old Agency by Creek Indians in 1827. Population, 186,390. Area, 31400 sq. miles.

Indian Territory is bounded on the north by Kansas; on the east by Missouri and Arkansas; on the south by by Texas and on the west by Oklahoma. This region is the home of five tribes or nations of civilized Indians, the Cherokees, Chickasaws, Creeks, Choctaws and Seminoles and all have newspapers. It is made up of prairies, river valleys and timber lands. It is drained by the Arkansas river and its branches and the Washita river. The territory has nearly 14000 square miles of coal fields yielding bituminous coal of a good quality. Iron, lead, copper, gold, marble and sandstone are found in small quantities. There are over 40000 acres under cultivation and corn, vegetables, cotton and hay are produced to the value of $6,000,000 annually. Millions of feet of lumber also are cut and sawed every year. Woolen blankets, shawls and willow baskets are made in considerable quantities. The principal settlements are: Lehigh, McAlester, Krebs, Muscogee, Purcell, Vinita, Tahlequah, Ardmore, Atoka and Eufaula.

IN a recent gathering of forty prominent publishers, the question of advertising agencies came up for discussion. The question involved herein was, which is the best agency, from both the standpoint of the publisher and the advertiser? The unanimous answer was Pettingill & Co.

No one should place advertising without first consulting Pettingill & Co. They can offer better positions, better service and better rates than can be had elsewhere.
